'Chambered Nautilus'

On June 14, 1952, Harry S. Truman, President of the United States, in a ceremony at Groton, Conn., took an electric welding torch and burned his initials into a long, curiously curved piece of steel.

It was the "keel blade" of what was to become the USS Nautilus, atomic-powered submarine.

On Jan. 21, 1954, Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower swung a bottle of champagne against the curving nose of the undersea vessel. The Nautilus slid into the water as bands played, crowds cheered and Mrs. Eisenhower gazed happily at her.

The world's first vessel of any kind, surface, undersea, or air, to be powered by an atomic reactor, "a chambered Nautilus" of steel and mystery, was afloat. Within two years from the time Harry Truman held the torch against the keel steel, she will be undergoing trial runs.

Cost

The Democrats sure do spend money. It was not so many years ago, just a brief time as the bird of time flies (and the bird is on the wing, the poet says), that Franklin Roosevelt brooded over a letter sent him by Albert Einstein, the scientist in exile. Einstein said he had reason to believe German scientists were at work on atomic energy and that if they achieved it first the results would be most unhappy. He also suggested that this country could get down to work and do the job first.

Roosevelt threw the grim atomic dice out on the table of history. A huge dam was begun at Fontana, N. C. At a place called Oak Ridge, Tennessee, thousands of men began to clear forests and go to work on curious buildings.

Roosevelt made his point—the atom bomb.

The cost? A modest $2,000,000. And it was the cheapest one ever built.

It was Harry Truman who gave the go-ahead on the plans for an atomic-powered submarine. The cost? A little more than $55,000,000. It will go over $60,000,000 before she is fitted out, has paid for her trial runs, her shake-down. She, too, is cheap at the price.

Yes, sir, the Democrats sure spend the money.

But, as it has been our lead in atomic weapons which has been one of the deterrents to aggression by the Soviets, and which was the major deterring factor in 1947-48 when political fears caused the administration to "live off the pantry shelf," so will this submarine be discussed—and feared—in the Kremlin. It pushes war off a bit farther.

There never has been any secret about the atomic bomb.

Einstein wrote Roosevelt that German scientists were at work on it—and presumably others. And so they were. Many of them are at work for the Russians now. Some for us. The bomb was almost altogether a product of aliens—insofar as the physics of it was concerned. The peculiar genius of this country lay in designing the complex, massive and highly fragile mechanics of production. But, the Russians have good designers—and they have Czechs and Germans to help. (As we do.)

We Know

So, we know they have produced an atomic explosion; and perhaps a hydrogen blast. Certainly they can.

But, nowhere is there any indication the Russians are as far along with refinements of the weapons as we are. Nor do we believe they have reactors for ships. The fact of our ability to produce in this field will cause the Soviets to feel more and more like talking peace.

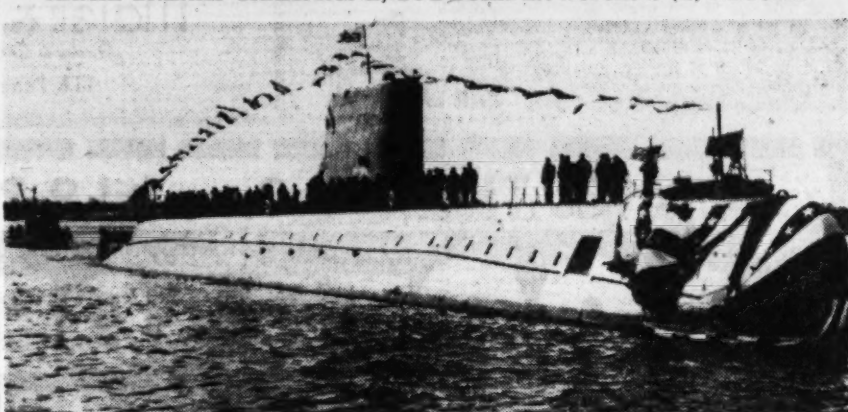

Yet, there actually are dimwits who think that Roosevelt and Truman, who have provided us in the diplomatic field with the Marshall Plan, the Greek Plan and NATO; and in the military with the tremendous advance in atomic weapons, were really Communists or pro-Communists. This has never made any sense.

We've got to keep ahead. A crude atomic or hydrogen bomb can wreck us badly—almost as badly as a highly polished, "advanced" one.

We can't live off the pantry shelf—we've got to spend money to stay ahead in the air and in the field of atomic weapons.

THE FIRST ATOMIC SUBMARINE IN HISTORY TAKES TO WATER

New Era Is Launched With A-Sub Nautilus

GROTON, Conn., Jan. 21 (INS)—The submarine Nautilus plunged eagerly into the water today, her menacing snout still dripping from the champagne flung at her by Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, and the age of atomic navies was born.

Dr. Pittman, Dies; Noted Medical Man

Dr. James Lee Pittman, 52, of 2966 Howell Mill Rd., NW, prominent urologist and associate professor of urology at Emory University, died shortly after 10 p.m. last night at the residence of a cerebral hemorrhage which occurred an hour earlier.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by H. M. Patterson & Son.

Dr. Pittman maintained offices with Dr. Earl Floyd and Dr. Candler Guy, also urologists, at 117 Fourteenth St., NE. He had practiced in Atlanta for 25 years, and formerly had offices in the Doctors Bldg. He had been on the Emory University staff since 1929.

A native of Abbeville, Ga., he was the son of the late James Lee Pittman, druggist for many years at Fitzgerald, and Timie Elizabeth Pittman. He was awarded a B. S. degree in 1922 and an M. D. degree in 1926, both from Emory. Prior to entering practice, he interned at Grady Hospital.

The author of many papers published in medical journals, he was at the time of his death president of the Georgia Urological Society, he said.

The fabulous sub—first to be powered by atomic energy and able to cruise 30,000 miles under water on a few nuggets of uranium—struck the greasy Thames River at 10:57 a.m. She opened a new maritime era amidst a bedlam of music, cheers, horns and whistles—carrying the prayers and good wishes of a crowd of 15,000 assembled in the Electric Boat Co. yard.

First ship in the "fission fleet," Nautilus symbolizes a change in maritime annals comparable to the historic transitions from wooden ships to iron and from sail to steam.

PORTHOLES COVERED

Gay hunting covered portholes from which torpedoes with atomic warheads could be launched. A skeleton crew stood on decks from which atomic missiles could be launched while hundreds of miles at sea.

Unseen, too, was the huge atomic power plant, built by Westinghouse from a prototype constructed by the Atomic Energy Commission in the Idaho desert.

The atomic engine, when completed, will produce power capable of driving Nautilus around the world without refueling, and at submerged speeds never even dreamed of.

$5,800,000 Is Asked for Buford Dam

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS

Constitution Washington Bureau WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—An appropriation of $5,800,000 for further construction work on the Buford dam project near Atlanta was recommended in the new federal budget submitted to Congress today by President Eisenhower.

At the same time, the budget message called for $2,170,000 for completion of final stages of work on the Clark Hill project above Augusta and $50,000 for additional planning for the Hartwell dam. Both projects are on the Savannah River.

Rep. James C. Davis of Decatur said he was gratified at the amount of appropriations recommended for Buford dam and asserted it would be adequate to keep the project going at a maximum rate.

Rep. Paul Brown of Elberton, in whose district the Hartwell dam is located, said he was disappointed that the administration failed to recommend any funds for actual construction work on the project. He said he would ask for one or two million dollars for this purpose when the civil defense appropriations bill is considered by the House.

Pakistan Rail Toll Put at 100 to 300

KARACHI, Pakistan, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Pakistan Mail express train—roaring a mile a minute across the Sind Desert—ripped into a slow freight today and survivors estimated from 100 to 300 persons were killed or injured.

Long, the principal, was accused of brutally whipping the boy.

Answering questions by the board, Louis said he got along fine with Long; that "Mr. Long liked me," and that he had not been afraid of the principal. He said the academy "is a good school, and he today would tell other blind children to go there. Louis said he would rather return to school than to quit. He could not answer whether he would fear the principal now.

Mrs. Walter Thomas, the mother, stated she wouldn't be satisfied to return the boy to the academy with Long and Nelms there.

Price Given Life Term In Slaying

Denies Killing, Admits Intimacies

By DERICK DANIELS

David Gene Price, the wild-eyed ex-Marine with a yen for "real scary comics," was convicted last night as the mutilation murderer of crippled Betty Bagby. He was sentenced to life in prison by Superior Judge Walter C. Hendrix.

A jury, which deliberated five hours on lurid evidence from the two-day trial, found him guilty at 9:58 p.m. It recommended him to the mercy of the court.

HEAR DENIAL

During the trial's final hours, the jury and a crowd of 300 thrill-hungry spectators heard the 19-year-old Price deny flatly that he killed Miss Bagby the night of June 20 in a glade off Bolton road, NW.

Her body, nude except for shoes and carved upon with a knife, was found two days later by a passerby.

Price, reading a prepared statement, said:

"I've done things wrong with Betty a few times. I had sexual relations with her. . . . But please, please, believe me, I never killed Betty Bagby."

"THIRD DEGREE"

Price denied he willingly wrote a statement of confession attributed to him by the state. He claimed he was cursed by police and threatened with a third degree.

"I was nearly scared to death," (Det.) Mike Johnson told me what to write."

Price claimed Betty's own brother, Grady, who is in prison, had more motive and opportunity to murder her. He said Betty once told him that her brother was the father of her three-year-old illegitimate child.

"WAS IN JAIL"

State Prosecutors Carl Copeland and Bill Spence assailed the defense contention that Miss Bagby might have been killed by her brother.

As the final witness, in rebuttal to Price's statement, they brought to the stand J. B. Hatchett, assistant director of the Department of Corrections. Hatchett said his record showed that Grady Bagby was in jail at the time Betty died under the blow of a 10-pound hunk of rock.

William Hall, leading counsel for the defense, pleaded for the jury to spare Price the electric chair.

OUTLINES PROCEDURE

At one point he walked up behind Price and demonstrated the way an executioner would shave his head, seat him in the electric chair and place the current-bearing plates over his head and knees.

The demonstration shook

Knowland Forecasts Slashes in Ike's 'Must' Budget of $65 Billion

'55 Spending Would Insure Atomic Lead

By FELIX COTTEN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (INS)—President Eisenhower submitted to Congress today a budget emphasizing atomic defense calling for a government spending cut to $65,570,000,000 in the next fiscal year and new tax deductions totaling $1,250,000,000 in that period.

The President's annual budget message proposed $5,332,000,000 less in government expenditures during the 1955 fiscal year beginning July 1 than is being spent in this fiscal year.

Despite this reduction, Eisenhower predicted a deficit of $2,928,000,000 for fiscal 1955. He said spending in that year would be $12,300,000,000 below spending charted for fiscal 1954 by former President Truman in his outgoing budget last January.

GOP CHEERS

The President's message was hailed by many GOP leaders in Congress as evidence of success in the administration's economy program.

But Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.) senior minority member of the House appropriations committee, called it "as phoney as a wooden nutmeg" because it does not call for a balanced budget.

Eisenhower's proposed tax cuts would come through changes in existing revenue laws while the spending reduction would be achieved mainly through the "new look" defense program placing chief reliance on atomic weapons and air power to deliver them.

Total defense spending would be slashed $3,975,000,000 in the 1955 year as compared with the present year, despite a $600,000,000 rise in Air Force spending. The main reduction would come in Army operations.

BUILD ARMS

The President contended national defense would be "strengthened—not weakened."

He said: "With a shift of emphasis to the full exploitation of air power and modern weapons, we are in a position to support strong national security programs over an indefinite period with less of a drain on manpower, material and financial resources."

The lion's share of the budget—$44,860,000,000 or 62 per cent—was earmarked for national security. Eisenhower asked $37,575,000,000 for the U.S. armed forces, $4,275,000,000 for foreign military aid, $2,425,000,000 for

Death Case Reveals Car Theft Ring

A witness in a Floyd County murder case yesterday reported an attempt on her life and supplied information which brought about the arrest of four men, including a former Korean War prisoner, in connection with an auto theft ring, that covered several states, police said.

A total of 18 warrants were issued in Rome yesterday against the four, officers said.

Miss Jeanne Wright, attractive 20-year-old blonde, told officers one of the four men rammed an automobile traveling at 60 miles an hour into the machine she was driving on Broad street in Rome Wednesday night.

Miss Wright, who was subpoenaed as a witness in a murder charge against Charles Burns, 23, son of a Rome manufacturer, was not injured, police said. They added the car she was driving was severely damaged.

Judge Mack G. Hicks, of Floyd Superior Court, issued an order directing Horace Cleary, assistant solicitor general of Floyd County, to provide Miss Wright with police protection.

Miss Wright, who was quibbled by the men first attempted to pay her not to testify in the murder case, identified the driver who rammed her car as Bobby Lucas, 22, Rome mechanic, Rome Det. Oscar Williams said.

Atlanta Dets. J. E. Sikes and J. W. Smith, who with agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, took over the auto larceny charges, said Lucas and

Falls Short Of Promises ---Democrats

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland predicted today that Congress will make further reductions in President Eisenhower's trimmed-down $65,570,000,000 "necessity" budget.

Chairman John Taber (R-N.Y.) of the House appropriations committee said the lawmakers should be able to chop some $3,000,000,000 from the President's new money requests and perhaps balance the budget in the 12 months starting July 1.

PRAISE CUTS

But most Republican congressmen praised Eisenhower for what they termed his "economy" and said the administration cutbacks showed the way toward further tax reductions. A few spoke of trimming an item here and there, particularly foreign economic aid.

Democrats were quick to charge that the GOP administration had not lived up to campaign promises to balance the budget. They also promised a careful examination to make sure the $4,000,000,000 slash in military spending was not too steep. Several predicted the deficit would be larger than the President estimated.

LAUDS PLANS

Knowland, who is charged with steering administration programs through the Senate, said that the budget "points up the administration's continuing determination to produce economy and efficiency in the operation of the federal government."

"I am confident the Congress will review the figures and make additional reductions in the appropriations bills that will soon come before us for consideration," he said.

House Democratic Leader Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said that by next June, the end of fiscal 1954, the Republicans will have been in office 18 months and the budget still will not be balanced. Warning against deep defense cuts he said he would "rather be alive with an empty pocketbook than dead with a full one."

Topcoat Weather Due in Atlanta Again Tonight

Cold weather will return to Atlanta and North Georgia this afternoon, the weatherman says. "Partly cloudy and considerably colder tonight and tomorrow" is the Atlanta Weather Bureau's forecast.

Drenching rains fattened already swollen rivers in North Georgia yesterday and brought a warning from the Weather Bureau that a flood is developing on the Oostanaula River at Resaca, Ga., that "could almost wash the town away."

More rain is forecast for Resaca today.

Temperatures are expected to range between 56 and 60 degrees today and 26 and 46 tomorrow. Yesterday's extremes were 62 and 65 degrees.

Heads of Blind School Forced Out; Jobs Depend on Results of Probe

By M. L. ST. JOHN

The superintendent and principal of the Georgia Academy for the Blind late yesterday submitted their resignations to State School Supt. M. D. Collins, pending an investigation into the firing of a student.

The outcome of the investigation will determine whether the resignations of Supt. F. G. Nelms and Principal Robert Long are accepted, Collins said.

The state superintendent requested the resignations shortly after the State Board of Education closed a lively two-day hearing and put the problem in Collins' hands.

The board voted to suspend corporal punishment in the blind academies and deaf schools until Collins makes his report to the February meeting. Earlier there were indications the board would abolish corporal punishment altogether.

Collins dispatched Paul Barrett, head of the division that supervises the blind academy, to Macon to make an investigation.

The state superintendent said that the school is hurt, and the boy, 12-year-old Louis Thomas of Rockdale County, is harmed regardless of what is done eventually about the incident. Collins expressed regret that he was "sorry" about the incident, adding he couldn't condone the way the child was treated. Collins said he "never had to beat a bull yearling as badly as that boy was beaten."

Dulles Off to Parley; Sees Europe Gains

Expects Big 4 To Determine
If Trend Is to War or Peace

By WALTER H. WAGGONER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—Secretary of State Dulles left today for a Big Four foreign ministers conference in Berlin, voicing confidence that a stronger Europe is in the making.

The secretary declared that the meeting of the three Western powers with the Soviet Union will be a clear signal of whether Germany and Europe are to be "united for peace" or divided and a "breeder of war."

Standing before a group of officials and well-wishers at National Airport, Dulles expressed his conviction, however, that "Europe will be rebuilt in strength" and "no Soviet efforts can prevail against our constructive purposes."

TOP ADVISERS

The secretary took off at 12:34 p.m. aboard the Presidential airliner accompanied by Mrs. Dulles and a party of six high-ranking advisers, an executive assistant, a secretary and a security officer.

The secretary said his mission to Berlin, which will be the first Big Three try at negotiating directly with the Soviet Union in five years, was "difficult but hopeful."

"The subject," he said, "is to be the future of Europe. Will Germany, and indeed all Europe, be unified for peace? Or will divisions be imposed which will make Europe again the breeder of war?"

"The Berlin conference will not finally answer these questions. But it will go far to indicate what the final answers will be."

STAKE OF UNITED STATES

Then, calling attention of the United States Government's stake in European unity and peace, the secretary continued:

"This time we believe that Europe will be rebuilt in strength. France and Germany are cooperating and providing statesmanlike leaders. They are strongly supported by Great Britain and the United States."

"I believe that no Soviet efforts in the Middle Ages, the lord often had a chair at the head of the table or on a dais beside his bed which served as a seat of authority similar to a throne."

can prevail against our constructive purposes and I hope that will not be tried.

"If the Soviet leaders come to Berlin with a genuine desire to create conditions of peace, they will find us open-minded and cooperative and we can together do much good for Germany and Austria, and indeed for Europe and the world."

The Western Allies have decided that the reunification of Germany and her return to full stature in the community of nations must be accomplished only in the following manner:

First, free, all-German elections; second, the creation through these elections of an all-German government; and third, the signing of a treaty with the government that emerges.

Gen. Forrest's Letter, Now to Hand, Asures Thair Was Wust Spelling

MEMPHIS, Jan. 21 (AP)—Well, the Southerners have good reason to let go a rebel yell today.

At last they have a handwritten letter by that illustrious Civil War cavalryman—Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest (GHT Thair Wust Spelling) to the Mostest Forrest.

All these years the only known existing letter written by the Confederate officer has been in that Yankee stronghold, Chicago, at-of all places—the Abraham Lincoln Bookstore.

Alas, the newly discovered letter confirms one thing Yankee historians have long held true and Southerners have indignantly denied—the general was a rather poor speller.

NO COMPARISON WITH MARILYN—HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 21—Mamie Van Doren, sexy blond actress, wants people to quit comparing her with Marilyn Monroe. Mamie admits the comparison has helped her blossoming film career, but now she wants to stand on her own two feet. She and Marilyn aren't really alike, anyway, Mamie contends. Marilyn's hair is golden blond, Mamie points out, while hers is silver blond.

The letter was written May 26, 1875, to a Memphis pioneer, Confederate Maj. Minor Meriwether. Meriwether has given the letter, along with a note of explanation written by his father, to the West Tennessee Historical Society.

The explanatory note told of a short-lived feud between Forrest and the major while both were serving on the board of directors of a railroad company here.

Wrote the major: "The general, 'fancying that I had thwarted him in some of his measures in reference to the Shelby County subscription notified me . . . that he would make a personal attack upon me . . .'" The attack never came, but hard feelings existed for about two years until Forrest and Meriwether met at a Confederate decoration ceremony in 1875.

A few days later Maj. Meriwether received the letter from Gen. Forrest. It read:

"Maj. Minor Meriwether: 'Yours of Yesterday by your son is to hand. I am glad that all differences between us are satisfactory settled and I assure you that that is no unkind feeling to wards your from me. I have all wase cherished a high regard for yourself and good lady and have felt unkindly towards your self only when I felt you you was using your influence against My Intrest. hoping we may live and as her to fore good friends.

Yours truly,
N B FORREST."

Inchon Harbor Explored For Bodies of 28 Marines

INCHON, Korea, Friday, Jan. 22 (AP)—Navy crews groped today through icy tidewaters for missing bodies among the 28 U.S. Marines who drowned yesterday after a collision of landing craft.

Quick rescue work saved 22 other men from the treacherous currents of Inchon Harbor. The 50 were aboard a small landing craft which was cut in two and rolled over by a big LST (Landing Ship, Tank).

FORMOSA TRIP

The LST was about to be loaded with liberated anti-Red Chinese prisoners for a trip to Formosa and the Marines, heavily laden with of the survivors aboard the U. S. Navy hospital ship Consolation. The survivors were 17 Marines, 2 Navy corpsmen, 2 Army men and a Korean civilian. Earlier reports of 52 on board the sunken landing craft proved in error.

The Marine Corps released last night in Washington the names of 23 Marines dead or missing in the Inchon tragedy. No Georgians were listed among the next of kin.

Marine victims and survivors were from the 3rd Battalion, 4th Regiment, 3rd Division.

"No one could live in those waters for more than a few minutes," an officer said after Navy small craft had searched for more than four hours yesterday for 22 missing bodies. Six bodies were recovered quickly.

Let's Get the Facts On School for Blind

Regardless of extenuating circumstances, there is simply no excuse for inflicting corporal punishment on a child to the point of brutality. And there is every evidence of brutality when bruises from such punishment are still visible almost a week later.

We are aware that Supt. F. G. Nelms and Principal Bob Long of the Academy for the Blind at Macon have achieved reputations as able administrators. We know, too, that they are trained in their jobs and that there have been no previous complaints about them.

Although long abandoned by many schools, corporal punishment has been the rule at the Macon institution since its founding. Blind children must be disciplined, too. That is understandable. Even if it is the rule and granted that the youngster had badly misbehaved, the severity of his punishment cannot be overlooked. Mr. Long certainly showed poor judgment and indiscretion, to say the least, in inflicting such punishment.

Heeding the sound advice of member James Peters for no hasty action, the State Board of Education placed disposition of the case in the hands of State Supt. M. D. Collins, where it belongs. Dr. Collins is requesting the resignation of both Mr. Nelms and Mr. Long pending an investigation by Paul Barrett, head of the Vocational Rehabilitation Division.

Certainly a complete investigation is in order. Dr. Collins' office and the Board of Education, too, should be concerned about this matter of corporal punishment at the institution. If it should be abolished anywhere, the school for the blind is certainly the place to start.

National Security Is The Big Budget Question

Ike's budget message and his recommendations on tax cuts in all probability will be received with public approval. Some alarm will be generated, and justly, about additional cuts in the defense program. The armed forces bear the brunt of most of the $5,000,000,000 trimmed from new spending. In our anxiety to balance the budget the most obvious place to cut is in the area of great spending.

The temptation to cut the armed forces below the level of national safety and security is hard to resist. We can only pray that this has not been done. The shift in defense planning from ground forces to the Navy and Air Force is an about-face from the former "balanced force" theory. It means fewer infantrymen to fight in the mud and cold and instead reliance on the powerful "retaliatory" strength of the atomic bomb and the means to deliver it. As for essential economies in the defense program, these are right and necessary. Even though we must maintain a huge peacetime military establishment under present world conditions, we cannot afford the luxury of waste.

We must somehow find a balance between what the American economy can afford over an indefinite span of years and the demands of national security. Economy for the sake of economy is foolhardy if it brings on another world war. The tax program, in the main, proposes corrections in obvious inequities in present laws. These will be costly, especially the request to ease the present "double taxation" on stock dividends. Estimated cost to the Treasury of these tax reforms is $1,500,000,000, which, added to the cuts already in effect, will more than offset the budget cuts like recommends.

Unless Congress follows the recommendation to renew the excise taxes that expire on April 1, the spread between income and outgo will become even greater. Estimates of the budget deficit for the next fiscal year already range from $4,000,000,000 to $7,000,000,000. That leaves no alternative except to raise the debt ceiling.

In the main the budget and tax messages are like Ike's other messages at this session of Congress—sane and middle-of-the-road. What Congress does with them is another matter entirely.

Our Promotion Manager Gets Deserved Award

The Junior Chamber of Commerce believes in flowers to the living. So do we at The Atlanta Constitution. Annually each Junior Chamber of Commerce over the nation selects and recognizes a man in its community as "Young Man of the Year." Selection is on basis of community service.

As "Young Man" of 1953, the Atlanta Junior Chamber has selected one of our own. He is Jim Murry, promotion manager for The Atlanta Constitution and The Atlanta Journal and our neighbor on the fifth floor of the Journal-Constitution building.

Jim won the honor for his volunteer service to community welfare campaigns and for his public service as producer of educational programs sponsored by The Constitution and The Journal on WSB-TV.

We congratulate our promotion manager on a recognition well deserved. You'll pardon us, we hope, for the warmth we feel from basking in reflected honor.

Frederic W. Ecker Learns About Georgia

Atlanta is privileged to have had as a guest, Frederic W. Ecker, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, the world's largest financial institution and itself an institution in our national business life.

At a dinner welcoming him to Atlanta, tendered by Robert W. Woodruff, chairman of Coca-Cola's executive committee and a director of Metropolitan, Mr. Ecker recalled his first visit here. It was, he said, when he trained as a soldier at old Camp Gordon when America had entered the first World War. He recalled dances and the beauty and graciousness of the young ladies he met and the hospitality of the city.

Now he and his executives are engaged in an enterprise which perhaps explains why Metropolitan continues to be what it is. Literally, they are going all over the country meeting personally with the men who conduct the company's business in the various states. He is determined that bigness, an inescapable factor of American life today, shall not remove the personal touch. That the president of the world's largest financial institution should undertake and carry out such a program is we think a fact worth recording and commending for its significance.

One of the features of the dinner was a tribute paid Mr. Ecker's father, Frederic H. Ecker, now 83 and but recently retired as chairman of Metropolitan's board, by Mr. Woodruff, who had served there with him. He is honorary chairman now and remains one of the real pioneering giants of American business.

President Ecker was interested, too, in how many persons commented on Metropolitan's institutional aid, devoted to the general topic of public health. All state agents came to Atlanta for a full day with the president and his associate executives.

St. Lawrence Seaway Affects All Americans

After more than 30 years the U.S. Senate for the first time has agreed with a President on the St. Lawrence Seaway project. It remains to be seen what will happen in the House of Representatives, but it is likely to follow the administration lead and the Senate example.

Belated approval of American participation with Canada in the development recognized an obvious fact. The seaway was being built anyway by the Canadians without our participation. This is our last chance to take part and Canada is not too enthusiastic now about having us in it at all.

Canada stood to gain all the benefits of tolls and controlling navigation on the seaway that would open up the heart of industrial America to the Atlantic.

In the successive blocking of the St. Lawrence project through the years we have witnessed a perfect example of special and sectional interests standing in the way of national progress. Congressmen have fought a last-ditch battle to protect their home ports and, of course, the railroads have played a part.

In the end, of course, it is an incontestable fact that the seaway would serve the best interests of the nation.

North Georgia Tribune Canton Weekly Dislikes The 'Fair Trade' Law

The recent Georgia Legislature passed a Fair Trade Act and Gov. Talmadge signed it. It permits fixing of minimum resale prices on brand or "fair-traded" merchandise and prohibits sale at less than the fair-trade price whether or not the retailer has signed a contract with the manufacturer, according to reports from state news agencies.

How a legislature, credited with as much needed legislation as it turned out, worked this monstrosity through must surely be without parallel. Up to this moment of misfortune, most everyone thought the legislative act which prohibited the sale of cigarettes below a certain price was as excruciating as possible for anything to get, but this last one takes the cake. The law cannot possibly do more than help destroy free enterprise and competitive pricing to say nothing of forcing the people to pay more for what they buy.

Such acts as this make the public wonder if a state of emergency shouldn't be declared and a Red Cross canteen be set up on the Capitol grounds when the Legislature convenes.

Mandatory Medical Care in Serious Ills Recommended for Georgia Statute Books

Atlanta—Don't let it happen here! If we do not already have one, Georgia should pass a law making it mandatory to call in a medical, osteopathic, chiropractic or other licensed physician for one in danger of death or future permanent physical disfigurement.

Let there not be cases like the Chicago couple, who let their 8-day-old baby die rather than have a doctor give it a transfusion, saying it was against God's law (which everyone thinks he is qualified to interpret).

God helps those who help themselves, and we should ask Him before as well as after we have tried the physicians he has given us. Especially if our earthly doctors are helpless!

One can be murdered by the omission, as well as commission, of an act.

Texas Recommends Economic Amendment

Port Arthur, Tex. — Eisenhower: "The American economy is one of the wonders of the world. — I find it necessary to renew my request for an increase in the statutory debt limit."

Proposed amendment to the Constitution: The Congress shall improve our economic system, and shall co-operate with the people of other nations in their effort to improve their economic systems.

Government spending delays but does not prevent depressions, and is not an improvement in our economic system. If any member of Congress or the Eisenhower administration has one proposal intended to accomplish the purpose of the proposed amendment I would like to know what it is.

I have not been able to find one.

Calling All Houstons; Kinsman Needs Help

Little Rock, Ark.—I am interested in any information of the Houston family or families in Georgia, prior to the Civil War, and in particular my grandfather, Samuel Houston, and wife, Nancy Goodwin, who came to Mississippi about 1850 from Georgia.

Two brothers, Tom and Carter, came with him. I do not know the county or location from whence they came.

I would be grateful for any suggestion as to where information of them might be obtained.

Two-Party Plan Is Confusing

Nobody knows where it started. Someone handed it to Leode Coleman at Statesboro and he printed it in his weekly, The Bulloch Herald. It's an analysis of the two-party system, 1953 model, and it reads:

"There are approximately two parties. Republicans are the ones in office now, and they are in favor of progress and prosperity. In the South, Republicans are known as Southern Democrats, but elsewhere they are just Republicans except in the Midwest, where Eastern Republicans are known as New Dealers. In California all Republicans are really Democrats and vice versa, which is known as cross-filing.

"Democrats, on the other hand, are out of office, and they stand for prosperity, progress and farmers. There are two factions within the Democratic party, both of which were founded by Thomas Jefferson in interest of freedom. The Southern faction threatens to bolt unless the Northerners agree to let them bolt, but the Northerners say they will kick the Southerners out unless the Southerners agree to let themselves be kicked."

"Both factions link up together on basic issues, however, such as which side of the aisle to sit on in Congress. Voters try not to confuse Republicans and Democrats, since both of them are confusing enough as it is."

THESE THINGS I See and Hear: Dalton, Ga., was named for a Yankee, Tristram Dalton, U.S. Senator from Massachusetts (1789-91) and grandfather of Edward White who laid out the Whitfield County seat. . . . Speaking of Dalton, there the city clerk's phone number is 13; the mayor's office, 213; the police, 513, and city utilities, 713. . . . For 23 years "Rocky" Griggs of the ANI print shop has been parking his car in the same downtown garage. In that time space rental has risen from $3 a month to $15. . . . There is a need for a three-way, left-turn traffic light at the intersection of Marietta St. and Northside Drive.

HIGHLINES: Shiny new mail boxes along the road testify to the fact that our post offices have made their last bow and a rural carrier has taken their place. "Around-Pike" in The Ellijay Times-Courier.

Alas, the Mule Is Fading Fast

As long as the city is appropriating money to make something out of the Grant Park Zoo, funds certainly should be set aside for the purchase of a mule, a jack and a mare.

The mule does not perpetuate itself, and is the product of the union of the mare and the jack. This trio once was one of the bases of Southern economy, but like so many other Southern symbols, it, too, is going with that well-known wind.

Before the days of mechanized farming, before the South converted its barns into garages, Atlanta was the largest mule market in the world. Large Georgia farms kept as many as 100 mules, and even the smallest found a mule as necessary as a well and a fire-place. The mule powered the farm during working days and frequently was used for transportation purposes.

Business done on the Atlanta market totaled millions of dollars annually. Today the mule is a rarity out on Brady avenue where the auction barns are, and most of those sold end up as dog food. Clifford Ragdale, one of the South's best-known livestock dealers, deplores the passing of the mule and worries about a mule-less future. What, he wants to know, is going to be used on the farm if the day comes again when the small farmer can't afford a tractor?

The answer is not the mule, for the mule is disappearing. The once-thriving trade of mule raising has died out, and he doubts if there are 2,000 mules left in the United States under three years old. Most of the mules that pass through the Ragdale auction barn are over six. Those that are relieved from packing plants mostly go to the tobacco fields of eastern North Carolina.

The mule trade has been sporadic since the end of World War II, and one way, from Southern farmers to meat packers or foreign armies, Israel bought a lot of mules on the Atlanta market not long ago, and as late as last December the Turks were buying them here. The jeep has replaced the mule in the theory of modern warfare, but not even the jeep is as sure-footed and dependable as the mule when it comes to negotiating rugged terrain.

The stock that produces the mule is going as fast as its end product. Mr. Ragdale is unable to fill an order from South America for a jack, and the stock farms of the mid-South once were long on jacks. The horse, too, is fading. The Atlanta auction barns see a few quarter horses which are sold for cow ponies, and an occasional weary thoroughbred. Local dealers estimate that 60 per cent of the mules traded here are made into pet food, while a good percentage of the horses sold are for human consumption.

The mule is clever and energetic. But the times have passed him by. Future generations will know the mule only as a word in a crossword puzzle, or possibly a long-eared freak on exhibit in a few metropolitan zoos.

Live With the Lord And Gain His Spirit

I have had people come to me asking, "How can I get God in my life?" So many expect a little formula that is quick and easy. We go into a grocery store, buy a loaf of bread and walk out with it. But possessing God is not that simple. Isaiah said, "They that wait on the Lord shall renew their strength" (40:31). That word "wait" may require a lot of patience and work.

A boy finishing high school told me he wanted to be a preacher and asked me how long it would take him to learn. I told him he would need to spend four years in college and then at least three years in a school of theology.

Then he will be ready to really start learning and he must keep working at it the rest of his life. There is no quick and easy way.

When Holman Hunt set out to paint his famous painting, "The Light of the World," he spent the major part of three years trying to get the proper atmosphere for depicting Christ at the door. In his effort to paint the wintry light in Christ's lantern, he spent many, many nights out in the wind, his feet wrapped in straw to keep them warm.

If it took a great artist three years to catch the spirit of the Presence of Christ, how can we expect to possess the "Light of the World" in an easy moment?

One can have high-spirited experiences in a moment's flash. But to really catch the Spirit of God, we must live with Him. One of the most discouraging parts of a pastor's life is the way some people will join a church and quickly lose interest. If they don't catch the spirit of the church in a few weeks, they quit.

"It takes a heap of living in a house to make it home." And that is even more true of God's House. We must get to know the people, we must give our time and prayer, we must give our talents. Little by little as we give to the church, the church begins to give its Spirit back to us.

The Bible tells us "Your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost" (1 Cor. 6:19).

The door through which God enters our lives is faith. It is not by feeling but by believing that we possess God. When God comes into us, we become a different person. As the old theologians would say, we become regenerated. After that comes the "witness of the Spirit." There is one thing more. The Holy Spirit is like electricity. Electric power will not go in where it cannot come out. You cannot have the Spirit of God as a private affair. There is no such thing as a solitary Christian. If you want God to come into you, you must be willing to let God go through you. He must go with you into every activity of your life. You must share Him with others. Your abilities and resources must become His.

Ike Fulfills Pledge With Budget Plan

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower has balanced the cash budget. The government will take in more cash than it will spend for the year beginning July 1 next.

This is an achievement of major importance, not merely to the taxpayers of America but to the world in which the integrity of the dollar plays a principal role today.

The details of a budget are complex and the methods by which the Federal Government keeps its books are wholly unlike those of private business. Capital outlays and loans are regarded as expenses, along with current operating expenditures. So the important thing to look at is whether the government is collecting more money than it is spending, and whether it is being forced to keep on borrowing to get funds to pay deficits.

Examining this—the first Eisenhower budget—it will be discovered that there will be a $100,000,000 surplus on a cash basis. This isn't large, but at least the cash deficits have been ended.

All this has been accomplished despite a tax cut that means about $6 billion less in revenue previously received from certain sources.

The House and Senate can upset the appellation by increasing the expenditures or they can cut still further and bring the book-keeping budget down closer to a balance.

Certainly as the Republicans go into the 1954 congressional campaign, their record on appropriations will be scrutinized.

Will the majority have aided in bringing the budget closer to a balance, or will they have widened the gap?

There are occasions when a higher debt limit is necessary for brief intervals. If the law could be amended so that the debt limit could be increased temporarily during a fiscal year, provided a certain limit was achieved at the end of the fiscal year, it might give the Treasury the flexibility it needs in refunding or refinancing its debt.

But the facts of the budget, as revealed, are on the whole encouraging and it may be said that in a practical sense President Eisenhower has fulfilled his campaign pledge when he presents a budget in which the money to be spent is less by $100,000,000 than the money that is to be collected from the taxpayers. Receipts may grow larger than have been anticipated, because the incentives to business expansion through revision of the tax laws may give America the same kind of lift that Britain got when the same principle—incentive taxation—was adopted last year at the suggestion of Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler.

YOUNG MAN OF THE YEAR WITH SPONSOR
Gen. Alvan C. Gillem and Jim Murry

KEYED FOR OUTSTANDING WORK

Murry Is Named Jaycee 'Young Man of the Year'

The Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday named Jim Murry, promotion manager for The Atlanta Journal and The Atlanta Constitution, as Atlanta's "Outstanding Young Man of the Year."

The 30-year-old executive was presented with a plaque and small gold key engraved with his name and the coveted title at a luncheon at the YMCA.

Oby T. Brewer Sr., who presented the plaque and key, commended Murry for his leadership in Atlanta's civic and religious life and his success in business.

LT. GEN. GILLEM

Murry was escorted to the speaker's table to receive the token by Lt. Gen. Alvan C. Gillem Jr., executive director of the Georgia March of Dimes, who nominated him for the award.

Murry, who is not a member of the Jaycees, was cited especially for:

1. Establishing the "You and Your Health" series of lectures and TV programs—the first of such public health forums attempted in the Southeast.

2. Setting up such radio and TV programs as "Our World Today," "Press Gallery," "Views of the News" and "News of the South-eastern Empire," sponsored by the newspapers for which he works.

3. Giving voluntary service to the Community Chest, March of Dimes, YMCA, Civitan Club, Red Cross, Jaycees and Variety Club in their charity and civic projects.

PLAN SURVEYS

Recommendations on state highway finance surveys, research studies and other projects will be made at the close of the meeting.

Gov. Cherry said the majority of the 45,000,000 persons in the South "don't know the problems of highway financing even though it's the people who pay the highway toll."

He urged not only the education of the public regarding highway financing but also the use of educational facilities of institutions of higher learning for research on highway problems.

Gov. Cherry said too often the dollar is the criterion for highway construction. He said highway engineers have the know-how to design and build good highways if the money is available.

ASKS STUDY

The Arkansas governor said factual data obtained through research at universities or other institutions could be used to show the people why certain highways are constructed. He stressed, however, that research is "fact-finding—not policy-making."

Gov. Cherry said the South must spend twice as much money on its highways and roads as it is spending now if it is to have an adequate highway system in 15 years.

Dr. Hugh Ivy Jr., director of the Southern Regional Education Board, said the recommendations and ideas developed by the conference will be taken to legislative groups for consideration.

The conference program also calls for planning a possible transportation institute which would integrate highway economics with other aspects of transportation.

House Okays AF Academy; Survey Awaits Senate Passage

New York Times News Service Special to The Atlanta Constitution
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21—The House passed today by the decisive vote of 329 to 36 a bill authorizing the creation of an Air Force academy along the lines of the Army's West Point and the Navy's Annapolis.

The bill, passed by a roll call vote, calls for an original appropriation of $26,000,000 to get the academy started. The over-all cost has been variously estimated from $117,000,000 to $500,000,000. The legislation now goes to the Senate.

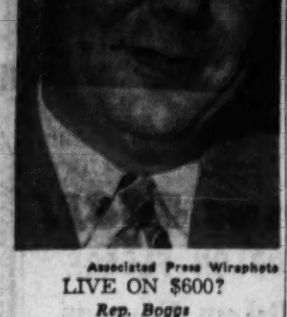

Chairman of the Armed Forces Committee, was sponsor of the air academy bill, which was the first piece of major legislation passed by the house at this session. An attempt by Rep. Errett P. Scrivner (R-Kan.) to head off a vote by making a recommittal motion was defeated, 131 to 25, and with that ultimate passage was virtually assured.

Rep. Short's bill provides that permanent location of the academy would be decided by the secretary of the Air Force. Recently Secretary Talbot said that he would appoint a survey board as soon as the bill had been passed by both houses.

of a temporary academy at an already established Air Force base.

The board, he said, would report to him within 60 days on the several recommended sites for permanent location. Meanwhile, the bill provides for expenditure of $1,000,000 of the $26,000,000 asked for, for the establishment

GOPs Halt Tax Aid for Low Income

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (INS).—Republicans on the House ways and means committee today beat down a Democratic move to free an estimated 7,000,000 low-salaried workers from paying income taxes.

Cries of "politics" punctuated defeat of a proposal by Rep. Hale Boggs (Dem., La.) to boost individual income tax exemptions to $700 from the present $600. All 15 GOP members of the tax-writing committee voted against the motion, while all 10 Democrats were for it.

Rep. John W. Byrnes (Rep., Wis.) branded the move "irresponsible," declaring that the government could not afford to lose the estimated 2½ billion dollars in revenue that he contended it would cost.

Rep. Robert W. Kean (Rep., N.J.) said the Boggs proposal was made "purely for political purposes." He referred to Republican forecasts that the Democrats would try to steal a march by sponsoring tax cuts before the GOP did.

But Boggs, who said his motion would have meant that 7,000,000 persons would no longer be required to pay income taxes, retorted:

"Everyone knows that it is absolutely impossible to live on $600 these days."

In his budget message today, President Eisenhower formally requested enactment of 25 tax changes, many of which have already been approved by the committee.

Other proposals adopted by the committee were:

1. Children who earn $600 a year or more may still be listed as dependents by their parents if they are under 19, or if they attend college, as long as the parents actually contribute more than half of their expenses. This provision will cost the Treasury $75 million a year.
2. Employees who are required to accept food and lodgings at their place of employment may deduct those expenses from their taxable income. This would apply principally to hospital nurses.
3. Interest on installment purchases—up to six per cent of the unpaid balance—may be deducted from the buyer's taxes.
4. When several persons contribute more than half to the support of another—such as grown children who pay their aged mother's expenses—they may select one of themselves whose contribution is at least 10 per cent to claim the entire deduction.

S. C.-to-South America Weekly Sailings Set

CHARLESTON, S.C., Jan. 21 (U.P.)—The first weekly schedule of sailings between Charleston and ports of Venezuela and Colombia, South America, will be inaugurated next week, the South Carolina Ports Authority has announced.

The sailings will be made by Grace Line ships, using combination passenger-freight vessels. The three vessels to be used are the Santa Ana, Santa Teresa and Santa Catalina.

His 'Hot Licks' Draw Fire

ATHENS, Tenn., Jan. 21 (U)—H. E. Curtis Jr. was bound over to the grand jury here today, charged with stealing a trumpet from a downtown store.

Police said Curtis told them he tried out the horn just outside the store, but decided it made too much noise, and that he was taking it down near the railroad tracks to test it further.

Curtis, 30, said he is from Florence, Ala.

Traffic law violators in Connecticut paid $883.439 in fines during 1952, or about $1 for every licensed driver in the state.

Coffee Kicks Passed On To 'Trust Busters'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (U)—Atty. Gen. Brownell told a news conference today the Justice Department has received some complaints about recent advances in coffee prices. He said these have been referred to the anti-trust division for study.

Moors Renounce French Ties

TETUAN, Spanish Morocco, Jan. 21 (U)—Spanish Moroccan chiefs today demanded a temporary separation from French Morocco and served notice they will not recognize the French-imposed Sultan who nominally heads the divided North African protectorate.

Some 30,000 white-robed Moors cheered wildly.

While the Moors milled about this Spanish Moroccan capital, their civil and religious leaders called on the Spanish high commissioner, Lt. Gen. Rafael Garcia Valino, to grant full sovereignty to their caliph, Moulay Hassan Ben El Mehdi, under Spanish protection.

Declaring they would not recognize any link between the Spanish and French zones, the Moors demanded that the two be split until the political situation in French Morocco changes.

Garcia Valino praised the petitioners for what he called their "virile and patriotic attitude" and promised to relay their demands to Generalissimo Francisco Franco in Madrid for his decision.

He said the French had only themselves to blame for the disorders sweeping their zone, charging they had made errors in dealing with the Moroccans.

STAR FOR TECH—Pat Crowley, 19-year-old actress rising to stardom in the film "Forever Female," will hand out awards and a gleaming smile tonight at the Fox Theater at 9:15 p.m. in celebration of Georgia Tech Night. Coach Bobby Dodd and his football team will be on hand.

Club Owner Acquitted in Wife Death

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21 (U)—James L. Cooper, 46-year-old restaurant owner, was found innocent tonight of his wife's murder by an all-male jury which deliberated 28 minutes.

Cooper, center of the most sensational murder trial here in decades, showed no emotion at the verdict.

He was indicted and arrested last Aug. 5 for the Nov. 30, 1952, slaying of Mrs. Amelia (Diddle) Woolfolk Cooper, beautiful 29-year-old member of a prominent family and former television actress.

FOUND IN APARTMENT

Her battered body was found in her apartment the day after she went to the Louisiana State-Tulane football game with Cooper and a group of friends.

The prosecution attempted to show that the dapper Cooper left his French Quarter apartment above his restaurant, the Court of the Two Sisters, took his porter's car, drove to Mrs. Cooper's apartment and killed her, then returned to his own apartment.

STAR WITNESS

Star witness for the state was Mrs. Yvonne Evers Holmes, a red-haired former stripteaseur who has been married four times. She testified that a television program showing a man choking a woman because it reminded him of "the way it happened." Cooper denied the statement.

The prosecution charged in final argument that Cooper had an opportunity to commit the murder, was familiar with Mrs. Cooper's apartment and that his actions after the slaying indicated he was guilty.

The defense retorted that several others had an opportunity to commit the crime.

French Land For Drive To Oust Vietnam

SAIGON, Indochina, Jan. 21 (U)—French Union assault forces consolidated a beachhead at Tuy Hoa today in a campaign to oust the Vietnamese permanently from a rich coastal strip of southeast Indochina that has been under the rebels' Red flag since 1946.

Virtually no opposition developed immediately to the land, sea and air strike into the longest of the Vietnamese half dozen holdings along the coast, the 220-mile zone between the Cap Varella region and Faifo.

A high command spokesman called the operation the first large scale French offensive of the 7-year-old Indochina war that was not aimed primarily at warding off Vietnamese blows.

Two thousand French Union troops swarmed ashore at dawn yesterday and occupied Tuy Hoa, a provincial capital and sugar refining center 250 miles northeast of Saigon. They were joined today by a French column which moved up the Mandarin highway into the rebel territory from Nha Trang, mopping up some fortified villages on its 60-mile course.

OFFICIALS AT GRADY BUILDING DEDICATION
of Thomas K. Glenn

T. K. Glenn Unit Called Medical Hub Beginning

The Thomas K. Glenn Memorial Building of Grady Hospital last night was pictured as a first step in making Atlanta a great medical center.

Speaking at dedication ceremonies for the new $750,000 building, Dr. Goodrich C. White, president of Emory University, said: "I believe this building is an indication of what is to come . . . of having in Atlanta a great medical center, second to none in the country."

GREAT ENCOURAGEMENT

Dr. White called the building "a great source of encouragement," and said it would "contribute greatly" to service, research and education in the medical field.

Hughes Spalding, chairman of the Fulton-DeKalb Hospital Authority, paid tribute to Thomas K. Glenn, first chairman of the authority, in whose memory the building was donated to Grady by the Wilbur Fiske Glenn Foundation.

Spalding credited Mr. Glenn with "laying the foundation for the entire hospital layout."

FORMAL PRESENTATION

Dr. Wadley R. Glenn, Grady Hospital surgeon and trustee of the Wilbur Fiske Glenn Memorial Foundation, formally presented the building to the hospital authority. He said "the help and cooperation of many people" was responsible for its construction.

Lawrence L. Gellerstedt, vice chairman of the hospital authority, presided. Invocation and benediction were by Dr. Nat G. Long, superintendent, Atlanta East District, Methodist Church.

Earlier, Spalding, Atlanta attorney, was re-elected chairman of the board of trustees of the Fulton-DeKalb Hospital Authority. Spalding, who became chairman in 1946, was named to his ninth consecutive term.

Sam Rothberg moved that all present officers be re-elected, and the board adopted the motion unanimously. Other officers, who also were named to their ninth terms, include: L. L. Gellerstedt, vice chairman; Frank Wilson, secretary-treasurer, and Fred Walker, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Wilson reported that bids on the new Grady Hospital will be opened at 2:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 4. He said originally there were 20 bidders, but he believes only about 10 bids actually will be made.

Wilson said all but $800,000 of the $20,000,000 in bonds to finance the hospital have been sold.

Capitol Ave. Garage Set, State Says

Construction of an open-air parking garage on Capitol Ave., SW—a project vigorously opposed by the city on grounds it will create new traffic problems and entail revamping plans for the Atlanta Expressway's downtown connector—will start "around Feb. 15," B. E. Thrasher, secretary-treasurer of the State Building Authority, said yesterday.

The announcement apparently kills hopes of city spokesmen that the state would reconsider plans for the parking garage to be located directly across Capitol from the point where Mitchell St. intersects.

Garland Steele, city liaison officer to the State Highway Department, earlier yesterday had made a second appeal to Thrasher and other state officials to relocate the parking garage. Steele displayed a drawing of original Expressway downtown connector plans which showed the proposed state garage would lie in the path of a key ramp for the connector.

An alternate downtown connector plan, shown in a second map which Steele used in his appeal, would detour the parking area. Steele insists that the alternate connector plan would load nearby streets beyond their capacity.

Thrasher said he "could not see where plans for the state parking construction interfered with anything." He said construction would start "just as soon as final plans are drawn, about Feb. 15" and should be completed within 90 days. State highway engineers approved the parking project, he pointed out.

Mayor Hartsfield, who earlier had appealed to Gov. Talmadge against the state's move, declined further comment yesterday.

Thrasher declared it was "imperative" that parking be provided "as soon as possible" for state employees, legislators and persons having business in the State Capitol.

Ag Agency Hires 9th Legislator

By M. L. ST. JOHN

If it should become necessary for the Georgia Legislature to hold an extraordinary session this year, the Agriculture Department probably would have to close down. Commissioner Tom Linder has just hired his ninth legislator. It is customary for these lawmakers to quit or take a leave of absence from the Agriculture Department while the General Assembly is in session. The Legislature isn't scheduled to meet again before January, 1955. But that time it will be a new General Assembly. However, if the current assembly should hold a special session, nine of Linder's employees would have to leave him.

Latest addition to Linder's collection of legislators in Rep. John Lee Phillips of Walton County, now a seed inspector at $250 per month.

SIZE UP PROSPECTS

State newspapers are sizing up the prospects of a Gowen-Griffin gubernatorial battle this summer. Rep. Charlie Gowen of Brunswick is an announced candidate. Lt. Gov. Marvin Griffin of Bainbridge is regarded as a candidate.

The Columbus Ledger says if a "coalition" puts up an anti-administration candidate it will split Gowen's votes. If the "coalition" is pro-administration, it will split Griffin's votes. The Ledger says Griffin won't announce his candidacy until the State Democratic Executive Committee meets. The North Dekalb Record endorses this idea of a late announcement by Griffin, stating it's too early for gubernatorial campaigning.

Gowen and Griffin are the only two who are sure to be in the race, the Houston Home Journal says. Talk of a "coalition" against Griffin indicates he is the leading contender, the Journal adds.

"To date we have never heard anything but good about Mr. Gowen," comments the Omega News, "but as the campaign comes to a climax and if Mr. Gowen is anywhere near the top, we'll no doubt learn first hand from some of his opponents what a rascal he actually is."

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

To correct an error, this is to report that Floor Leader Frank Twitty of Camilla was not a member of the subcommittee that killed Sen. Everett Millikan's "loan shark bills." Rep. Mac Hicks of Rome, newly appointed Superior Court judge, was the other majority member of this group along with Rep. Billy Key of Monticello and Rep. George McGee of Savannah. Twitty made the motion to put the bills in subcommittee.

Bob Taft Jr. Tries For Ohio House

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 21 (AP). Robert A. Taft Jr., son of the Senate Republican leader who died last summer, announced today his first political campaign would be for a seat in the Ohio House of Representatives this year.

His father began his political career in 1921 the same way, and was elected for three terms to the lower chamber.

The younger Taft, also an attorney, notified the Hamilton County Republican organization he would seek one of two county vacancies created by an appointment and failure of incumbent to seek re-election. He was almost sure of winning as he was not expected to have major opposition in this traditionally Republican area.

Toomer Okayed By Senate Group

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP).—The Senate Finance Committee today approved President Eisenhower's nomination of Louis B. Toomer, a Savannah Negro banker, as Register of the Treasury, and Mrs. Jessie Dixon Saylor as Collector of Customs at Savannah.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

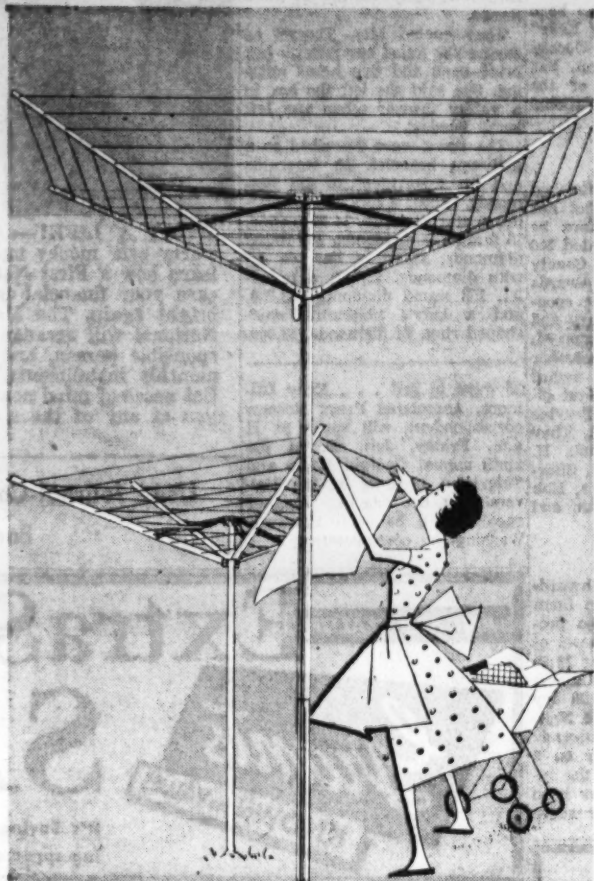

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 40 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 12 million kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

COLLEGE PRESIDENTS AT INAUGURATION

Mercer and Wesleyan Inaugurals Begin

By ALEX JOINER
Constitution Staff Writer

MACON, Jan. 21—Baptist and Methodist sat side by side tonight in the many-columned Macon city auditorium for the official beginning of three days of academic ceremonies marking the investiture in office of two new college presidents.

The inaugural program will be eliminated tomorrow when at 10:30 a.m. Maj. George Boyce Cannell will formally become 16th president of Baptist-supported Mercer University and, at 8 p.m., when Dr. B. Joseph Martin is invested as titular head of the 118-year-old Methodist Wesleyan College.

(Actually, Dr. Martin assumed his duties as president of Wesleyan last summer and Major Cannell as head of Mercer last September.)

Tonight's first convocation, as it was called, was attended by officials of both historic denominational institutions and representatives of more than 200 other colleges and universities from throughout the nation.

Sen. Walter George, who was to have presided, was unable to attend because of the "press of business," and Dr. Louis D. Newton, pastor of Atlanta's Druid Hills Baptist Church, substituted for him.

Speakers were President Harold Claude Case of Boston University and the Rev. Mr. Edwin McNeill Poteat, pastor of Pullen Memorial Church in Raleigh, N.C. Both built their addresses around the general theme of "Man's Right to Knowledge and Free Use Thereof," the idea being espoused this year in Columbia University's bicentennial celebration.

Dr. Case emphasized that the public school system is the "backbone" of democracy, but that the small, church-related colleges must continue to grow "because they have produced leadership far beyond expectation."

Dr. Poteat pointed out that freedom cannot be excluded from any aspect of life.

"We eat to free ourselves from hunger, play to free ourselves from boredom, take analgesics to free us from pain, go to school to free us from ignorance, to church to free us from sin," Dr. Poteat said.

The minister stressed the value of education to wise exercise of freedom, and especially emphasized the place of Christian education in a free society.

"It is the faith of Christian liberal education," he concluded, "that within the orbit of Christian thought and action, man will achieve the highest level of his real and potential self."

Visiting educators and officials of the colleges arrived in the auditorium in a mass academic procession following a dinner at the Hotel Dempsey sponsored by the Macon Chamber of Commerce.

School Site Row Given Back to Macon County

A long-time dispute between Oglethorpe and Montezuma over location of a proposed new county high school was dropped back into the lap of the people of Macon County yesterday.

The State Board of Education returned a school building proposal to the Macon County Board of Education with the request that the proposed white high school at Oglethorpe be put at the bottom of the priority list.

A. C. Felton of Montezuma asked that this be done, stating a new high school isn't needed.

Garland Byrd, Butler attorney representing the Macon County Board of Education, said Montezuma is trying to get the proposed school away from Oglethorpe.

Deadline for ending the argument and getting the program approved is April 30.

QUESTIONS "HOTHEADS"
Referring to McGill's statement that only "hotheads" and politicians were talking violence, Grant said:

"I certainly am no politician—and although McGill did not list or name the so-called 'hotheads' I got the impression that perhaps he had in mind all citizens who believe strongly in segregation of the races, and who are willing to stand up and be counted on the issues and exert their full influence in clubs, churches, lodges and other assemblies with a view to retaining the system in the interest of the welfare of both races in accordance with what they regard as their rights under the constitution."

ASSAULTS DEFEATISM
Grant warned that "above all, don't accept defeat on this momentous issue even if the Supreme Court rules against segregation."

"A spirit of defeatism," he said, "never won a battle."

In Atlanta, Editor McGill had the following comment on Grant's remarks:

"The several hundred people who heard my talk in Augusta," he said, "know that Mr. Grant has distorted it and substituted his own interpretation for mine."

$23,500 Gem

Robbery Is Probed Here

City detectives yesterday were continuing their investigation of a $23,500 jewelry robbery, the largest of its kind here in recent years.

A larceny report by Detectives R. E. Finley and I. M. Eason said Mrs. Malcolm D. Therrel, wife of a prominent Atlanta business man, discovered the loss Wednesday when she returned to her home at 2000 W. Paces Ferry Rd., NW, after visiting in Monticello.

They quoted Mrs. Therrel as saying she found her jewelry box pried open and five items missing. She said she left the box in a vanity drawer when she left home Sunday.

The items were described as a platinum bracelet, 50 emeralds and an assortment of 423 diamonds, $9,500; a spray pin of platinum, star sapphire, 14 diamonds, 16 marquise diamonds, 169 round diamonds, $5,000; a bar pin set with diamonds, $3,750; a bracelet, 153 round diamonds, $3,250, and a lady's platinum heart-shaped ring, 24 diamonds, $3,000.

Carsello Convicted In Tax Case

Mike Carsello, one-time boxer turned businessman, lost a round with the government in court here yesterday when he was found guilty on charges of evading $5,931 in 1946 income taxes. The tall, swarthy Twin Lakes hotel operator, who once managed the Valdosta VFW and Athletic Clubs, will be sentenced at 9:30 a.m. Jan. 29 by Judge Boyd Sloan.

A prize fighter in Ohio before he moved to south Georgia 22 years ago, Carsello, who was indicted under three names including his ring alias "Mike Carol," appeared unmoved by the jury's decision.

His attorney, William McRae, indicated that the verdict would be appealed. Maximum punishment for the violation is set at $10,000 fine, five years in prison or both.

The jury of 11 white men and one Negro ended the week-long trial after five hours deliberation. Their verdict also cleared Carsello on three other counts of tax evasion, for 1947-48-49.

He had been accused of $12,158 underpayment of taxes over the four-year period.

at the school, told the board he had a personal interest in the Thomas boy. He said he had personally picked the youth to move in with the other boys when the younger group became overcrowded. However, Long reported Louis had been giving constant trouble since he received the additional freedom allowed older boys.

Long said he whipped Louis and another boy with his belt for scuffling in violation of the rules. Two days later, he said he paddled Louis for hitting another blind boy in the face with a football.

The principal declared he had no intention of mistreating the boy. Long reported hitting him a dozen times with the belt and 15 times with the paddle. He said Nelms had advised a "sound thrashing" earlier when he discussed the matter of Louis' "constant picking on younger blind boys."

JURY HOLDING OFF

The state board was informed that the Bibb County Grand Jury is delaying any action. W. M. Weaver of Macon, member of the Blind Academy Building Authority, reported he personally investigated the incident. He was quoted as stating he didn't find it "as bad as the papers had it." Weaver described Long as a trained, special educator, holder of a master's degree, and a person liked by teachers and students. He said Long is not a "brutal man."

A blind leader, Harry DeLaney of Atlanta, commented that "blind kids can be just as bad as seeing kids." He said discipline must be maintained.

As discipline officer, Long said he had straightened out 99 per cent of the problems without corporal punishment.

The board handed the problem to Collins when Asst. Atty. Gen. A. J. Hartley pointed out that action on personnel has to be initiated by this administrator. The board is an appeals agency in such matters, he advised.

Chairman George Whitman Jr., who had asked the board to fire the two, said he disliked "buck passing."

He was a member of the staff of Grady, Emory, Piedmont and Crawford Long hospitals.

Dr. Pittman was also a member of the Capital City Club and a former member of its governing board, a member of the Piedmont Driving Club, Gate City Lodge, F&AM, and Pi Kappa Phi and Alpha Kappa Alpha fraternities. He was a communicant of the Cathedral of St. Philip.

Surviving are his wife, the former Clare Boisfeuillet Jones, a native of Knoxville, Tenn., reared in Atlanta; a daughter, Miss Clare Boisfeuillet Pittman, and a son, James Lee Pittman Jr., all of Atlanta.

Ike's 65 Billion Budget Offers Billion Tax Cut

atomic energy development and $385,000,000 for critical stockpiling.

Eisenhower also asked for congressional authority to spend $1,125,000,000 on foreign economic aid. Many congressmen feel the time for such aid is past and the President's request may be in for trouble.

SHAKY PEACE

To protect the nation over an "extended period of uneasy peace," he called for the biggest air power buildup since World War II—40,000 planes over the next three years compared with the present 33,000—and the biggest atomic arms program in the nation's history.

Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge said that without tax cuts there would have been a $2,000,000,000 surplus in fiscal 1955. Dodge and Treasury Secretary Humphrey told news conferences the administration does not look for a business recession and that it expects revenues to remain about as at present.

The tax cuts mentioned by Dodge include the new ones proposed by the President and the 10 per cent slash in income taxes and the repeal of the excess profits tax which took place Jan. 1. However, the budget is also based on a continuation of the corporation profit and excise levies expiring April 1.

The President said his budget "marks the beginning of a movement" to shift to state and local governments and private enterprise federal activities which they can handle better.

He recommended to Congress 25 changes in the tax laws estimated to cost the government $2,250,000,000 in revenue in the 1955 year. The highlight was a proposal to move up the income tax deadline from March 15 to April 15 as a convenience to taxpayers and revenue collectors.

Eisenhower's new tax proposals include: "some" deduction of expenses for care of children when widows and widowers, and mothers whose husbands are disabled, work outside their homes; permission to claim as a dependent a child earning more than $600 a year; income-splitting by widows and widowers and persons supporting dependent parents; more liberal medical expenses allowances, and partial tax credit against dividends.

RENEW PLEA

The President reiterated his request for extension of taxes expiring April 1. This would include a one-year continuation of the 52 per cent excess profits tax on corporations, and unlimited extension of present excises on liquor, cigarettes, autos, gasoline and other items.

Cautioning against cutting taxes more than he recommended, the Chief Executive said:

"I do not believe the budgetary situation will permit further reduction of taxes at this time."

He declared his tax program would pass on to citizens in tax cuts his economies in spending in the 1955 year. In saying this, he had in mind not only his new recommendations but the 11 per cent income tax reduction and the excess profits tax repeal on Jan. 1. His plan, he explained, is to drive toward the "twin goals" of a balanced budget and tax reduction. He promised to propose more tax cuts as quickly as savings and the revenue situation permit.

Eisenhower abandoned, however, his previous request for a cutback in the Old Age and Survivors Insurance payroll tax to 1.5 per cent each on employers and employees. It rose automatically to two per cent Jan. 1.

He repeated his request for a rise in the $75,000,000,000 ceiling on the public debt. He wants it increased to $200,000,000,000. He said that in the latter half of 1954, when

LIFE IN PRISON

tax collections are seasonally low, "there will be no way of operating within the present debt limit."

To carry out his spending program, the President asked Congress to vote $56,283,000,000 in the appropriations for all government operations. This represents a reduction of $4,435,000,000 below the sum the 1953 session of Congress provided.

The President said 55 per cent of the money he proposes to spend in the 1955 year would come out of the new appropriations he is asking Congress to pass.

and the other 45 per cent out of money appropriated in previous years. Some of this would be money appropriated during the Truman regime.

Price's gray-haired mother to tears.

Hall said, "It would be a disgrace to a savage race to electrocute this demented child." He contended Price is and was insane.

He put up as a defense witness during the morning Myron Weiner, a clinical psychologist. Weiner testified he examined Price, two days ago and found that although his capacity was that of a college student, his mentality was no higher than a three-year-old's when he was placed in any situation of stress.

RIGHT AND WRONG

Weiner swore Price could not tell right from wrong. The state rebutted his testimony with several laymen witnesses who said Price was capable of distinguishing right from wrong.

In his summation to the jury, Spence challenged the jurors to show Price "the same mercy he showed little Betty Bagby when he strangled her until she was limp and then smashed this rock on her head."

Spence lifted the bloodstained rock that was found beside Betty's body. He let it drop with a thud to the floor of the courtroom.

MANILA, Jan. 21.—The government sent 5,000 army troops into central Luzon today with orders to kill or capture die-hard Communist-led Huk rebels who spurned a chance to surrender peacefully.

Operations were concentrated on the Arayat Mountain area where some top-ranking dissidents, possibly including Huk leader Luis Taruc, are believed hiding.

Sikes and Smith identified the other three, all of Rome, as Donald E. Ray, 21, who for 32 months was a prisoner of the Communists in Korea, now on leave from Ft. McPherson; George D. Lewis, 34, a Rome fireman and garage operator, and Homer W. Ezell, 31, an employee in Lewis' garage. Rome police said Miss Wright

Mayfield was taken to a hospital following the second altercation and died, police said.

Burns, indicted on a murder charge, is scheduled for trial next week in Floyd Superior Court.

Tragic Dance of Suzan Shown in 'Sumatra' Film

By PAUL JONES

The story of how pretty actress Suzan Ball was injured while making the film, "East of Sumatra," and of her heroic fight against cancer which resulted from the injury, will no doubt entice many Atlantans to the Paramount Theater this week to see this film.

The dance sequence which was being filmed at the time she fell and injured her leg is contained in the movie which is one of those highly Technicolorized films, produced amid the tropic splendor of a make-believe Pacific island.

The plot is all about a young miner and a jungle king and how they come to blows when the native king thinks the "intruder" is "stepping on the toes" of his island subjects. Romantic trimmings are contributed by Jeff Chandler and Marilyn Maxwell. Anthony Quinn accounts for another excellent character role in the supporting cast.

Reviewer's rating: Good escapism. "F" classification.

Blood Supply At Red Cross Center Low

The supply of blood at the Atlanta Red Cross Blood Center has reached a "dangerously low level," and Atlantans are urged to give blood today to help relieve the shortage. Dan Haughton, chairman of the blood program, said yesterday.

Haughton said the demands for blood from the hospitals have been much greater than the collection of blood during the past week. He said it will be necessary to postpone some surgery unless there is an immediate response from donors. He blamed the shortage on the canceling of many bloodmobile visits for various reasons and the small number of donors who have visited the center.

Donor hours at the blood center, 848 Peachtree St. NE, are today from 9 to 4 p.m. tomorrow and from 9:30 to 1 p.m. tomorrow. Appointments are not necessary, but time may be saved by calling ATwood 1601 and making an appointment.

Early Christian chroniclers often dated events from the birth of Abraham which they placed at 2166 B.C.

Employees Must Be Issued W-2 Tax Forms by Jan. 31

Federal income tax withholding statements must be issued by employers to all their workers by Jan. 31 under penalty of law, P. K. Sanders, acting director of the Atlanta Internal Revenue office, said yesterday.

Employees must file these W-2 security tax withheld must be forms with filing income tax returns for 1953, he pointed out.

The forms are available at the Internal Revenue offices, Room 8, Old Post Office Bldg. The employer must make them out in triplicate and give two to the employee. The total wages paid, amount of income tax deducted and social security tax withheld must be shown, Sanders said.

Another deadline approaching for employers is the Feb. 1 date for their last quarterly return declaring income and social security taxes withheld and paying withheld taxes to the Internal Revenue Service by cash or depository bank receipts.

PILOT TELLS OF DRAMATIC RESCUE HERE
Cmdr. and Mrs. J. B. Kiser at Atlanta VA Hospital

Risked Life for Others, Pilot's Story Reveals

By JOE RICKENBAKER

A heroic Naval Reserve pilot from Memphis could have taken a safer way out but he chose to risk a ride with possible death to save the lives of others.

For the first time since his F4U Corsair crashed and burned Sunday, near the Atlanta Naval Air Station, Lt. Cmdr. J. B. Kiser told from a hospital bed how, after split-second thinking, he changed his mind about landing in the yard of an apartment house.

He spoke haltingly because smoke and fumes from the crash irritated his throat. This is the story he told yesterday with the help of his schoolteacher wife: "I was making a normal approach for a landing when the engine cut out. It cut out with such a bang that I knew there was nothing to do but take a pot-shot at some opening. "I started to land in the backyard of an apartment house. I could have made it to the yard but could have killed someone. I had to change my mind—quick. "I turned and realized I couldn't make the road so I pulled into the trees." Here Mrs. Kiser took up the story: "Jim said after the crash he heard somebody say, 'Come on boys we can get that fellow out of there.' That's when Jim told them to stay back. "The next thing he knew some big fellow was pulling at the plane and then they pulled him out. "We have been trying to reach everyone who helped Jim. It must have taken 10 men to turn the tail of the plane."

Magazines Plan Art Spreads on Cyclorama

By MARJORY SMITH

A handsome color booklet on Atlanta's internationally famous tourist attraction, the Cyclorama, will receive wide publicity when it comes off the presses next month, Alderman Charles Leftwich declared yesterday.

Several, nationally circulated magazines plan to use reproductions of color paintings of Cyclorama scenes by Wilbur Kurtz, Atlanta artist and historian, which appear in the 32-page brochure, Leftwich reported.

Leftwich, who serves as chairman of the city parks committee; Atlanta Parks Director George Simons and other committee members conferred with Mayor William B. Hartsfield yesterday on methods to promote the forthcoming publication and the Cyclorama itself.

Group spokesmen reported advance interest in the booklet and in use of the material it will contain has been "unusually high." The booklet, to be distributed by the City of Atlanta, will be sold to tourists and others visiting the Cyclorama here. It will also be offered at the Municipal Airport and in downtown hotel lobbies.

The booklet has a color cover depicting the Battle of Atlanta, and the text by Kurtz includes a history of that battle. Parks committee members expressed the opinion that distribution of the booklet will heighten interest in Atlanta's unique Cyclorama.

Landers Honored

A testimonial luncheon honored J. H. Landers, retired Third Ward member of the Atlanta Board of Education, here yesterday. Principals, teachers, and PTA members of the five schools in the Third Ward attended the event at Fowler Street School.

Testimonials cited Landers for his contributions to betterment of city schools during his 23-year

Meeting Cancelled

January meeting of the Atlanta Board of Firemasters, originally scheduled for next Monday, has been cancelled because of "lack of business," Miss Martha Guest, board secretary, reported.

Fire Prevention Cited

Atlanta's effective promotion of fire prevention was cited by the National Fire Protection Association yesterday, which gave the city an honorable mention in its annual nationwide listings. Atlanta ranked immediately below Memphis, Louisville, and San Antonio, top winners in that size and population classification. Atlanta was 20th in the nation among 436 cities considered.

About Time for Terry

For what it's worth: Bill Terry, the new Hall of Fame pledge, had a cold "no comment" for the wire services. But if he'd said what he feels, it would have been: "It's about time," which is what he said in Atlanta last autumn. . . . That telephoto picture of Eddie Mathews at his Milwaukee party looked some kind of fat-cheeked and blubbery for a youth with a long haul ahead of him. . . . And whatever became of Mickey Jelke?

Eddie Joost speaks: "We (Philadelphia A's) are going back to fundamentals. There'll be a lot of bunting. I'm going to devote a lot of time to cutoff plays." There's a guy who'll be a managerial success. Lookit how he handles the quotes. . . . Andy Phillips, the Tech basketball rookie, looks like a Glenn Turner on a diet. . . . Joe (I Hate TV) Engel is getting there first with crowd appeals. He ran half a page ad in a Chattanooga paper the other day begging for a new opening day record for the Lookouts.

Bisher

Eddie Glenn goes to daytime in Birmingham. The Barons will play Wednesday matinee in The Great Experiment. . . . Laugh at fat boys, if you will, but I don't recall ever seeing Joe Bingham, 330 pounds of Detroit Lions guard, knocked off his feet. And he's no stationary target. . . . Said of a veteran baseball player who clung jealously to age 39: "That's his beer-drinking age."

Chances are strong that Rabbit Maraville wouldn't have made the Hall of Fame this trip if the poor guy hadn't died just as the voters went to the polls. . . . Most revealing headline of the week: "Dee on Auburn Game: 'Could Win or Lose.'" That's basketball coach John Dee of Alabama living dangerously. . . . And whatever became of Floyd Burdette, the man he replaced?

Saturday Drunks and Flamingo Eggs

The New Jersey Legislature has attacked the eternal problem of what to do about boozing at football games. If it succeeds, it could patent the process for the nation, for there's nothing more bilious than spending a Saturday afternoon wedged in a two-foot space beside some goat who came out to the stadium to do his bickering. . . . In the week's mail, a flamingo pink coconut from

Ev Clay, the Hialeah race track ace. First impression: Flamingoes lay such large eggs it must be painful. . . . A year ago Bill Kriemeyer was a candidate for Vanderbilt immortality. Now he's a candidate for the Halls of Montezuma.

There's no better bargain in town than the YMCA Health Club, which won't help you retain your youth, but will make age a less vigorous aggressor. The membership campaign is on now. . . . Fact of the week: Baltusrol, the ancient and famed New Jersey golf course, got its name from a farmer named Baltus Roll, who once owned the land and who never hit a golf ball in his life. . . . Miami people, while joyful over their Orange Bowl of '54, already are looking ahead with trepidation to '55. Suppose, for instance, Oklahoma and Maryland repeat as Big Seven and ACC champions and the OB must settle for, say, Nebraska and South Carolina? Ouch!

Harry Stuhldreher, of the Four Horsemen, ran into a southern grumbling beautifully about football conditions at his school and what ought to be done with the coach, such as honoring him at a banquet of ground glass. After a lengthy list, Stuhldreher finally snarled: "And what's your claim to fame, friend?" Said the grumbler, with appropriate courtesy: "I once struck out Ty Cobb's brother."

The Ladies' Explosion Came Fast

The ink wasn't dry on Betty Hicks' Satepost story on the golf ladies before the explosion was on. Fred Corcoran, the guiding light, was canned. Babe Zaharias quit as president, and dissension was everywhere. The story was probably the detonator. . . . Spencer Allen, one of Atlanta's bright young tennisists who schools at Woodberry Forest, has one to tell the chums when he gets home. He aces Jack Kramer working out with the pro champ last week. . . . And whatever became of Lester Stoen?

Mail Call: "Whatever became of Gussie Moran's lace panties? She sold them to the 'manly' boxers who flutter coyly across my TV screen and fill me with the urge to scream, 'Get on with the bout.'"—Evelyn Winchell, Greenville, Ga. . . . "We'd rather our son be humble than champion, to paraphrase an old expression, but pray he can be both."—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Morris, Atlanta (parents of tennis star Allen Morris). . . . "I was pleased to note in your column last week that you included the Marine Corps as belonging to the people along with Notre Dame and the Yankees. I hope the people in Georgia remember it when we start U. S. Marine Corps Recruiting Week in the state Jan. 24."—John F. Hough, Col., U. S. Marine Corps.

This one came by telephone from Harold Rosenberg, who observes that every season except one, the National League rookie of the year has been a Negro, and the one exception was named Dark. Hues hue of the big leagues, you might say. . . . For my dough, there's no finer municipal golf course anywhere than the spread at North Fulton. . . . After he'd been whipped there for about the fifth time in a row, Everett Case, the N.C. State basketball coach, announced: "I'll never consider any college basketball team in the country great until it has played and beaten Wake Forest in Gore Gymnasium. That's the greatest test of all." . . . Selah.

Hey! Coach Backs Referee Who Criticizes Squawkers

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—A basketball coach backed up a referee today.

Coach Joe Lapchick of the New York Knickerbockers said referee Johnny Nucatola was right the other day when he blasted coaches for squawking too much.

"I watched some of our games (National Basketball Association) on television and saw a lot of useless bickering. I decided to take stock of myself," said Lapchick.

"The screaming we do incites crowds, particularly at home. That may intimidate the referees."

"It's time for us to get wise to ourselves, cross our legs, sit back, and watch the game."

Then he grinned. "Maybe I'm saying this because we're in first place with a three-game lead."

Cards Sign Musial For Reported 80Gs

Braves' Mathews Gets About $25,000;
Bobby Young First Oriole To Agree

Stan Musial signed a one-year contract with the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday for an estimated $80,000, and Ed Mathews reached an agreement with the Milwaukee Braves at a considerably lower figure.

Musial, a six-time National League batting champion, nudged with owner August A. Busch briefly, then informed reporters that he was well satisfied with his new contract.

Though terms of the contract were not disclosed, Musial again will be the highest paid player in the National League. He reportedly has been paid $80,000 a season for the last three years.

Mathews, who had threatened to join the holdout ranks, was the second player to come to terms with the Braves. He did not sign a contract, but accepted an offer made by owner Lou Perini during a seven-mile ride to the Milwaukee airport. Brave General Manager John Quinn refused to reveal Mathews' salary, but the former Atlanta Cracker star probably will get $25,000.

Mathews led the majors in homers with 47 and drove in 135 runs in his sophomore season with the Braves.

While the Cardinals had no trouble getting Musial's signature, owner Busch and second baseman Red Schoendienst were having some trouble. Schoendienst, runner-up to Brooklyn's Carl Furillo in the N. L. batting race, is asking a fat increase.

Second baseman Bobby Young, a native of Baltimore, became the first Oriole to sign a contract. Others coming to terms were outfielder Bill Renna and pitcher Walter Kellner of the Philadelphia A's.

The New York Giants will start their night games at home at 8:15 instead of 8:30 next season. Fans showed an overwhelming preference for the earlier starting time in a poll conducted by the club.

Tim Murchison has signed as a scout for the New York Giants. He will cover North Carolina, South Carolina and the Virginia area.

Most Valuable Tech Griddier Named Tonight

Georgia Tech's most valuable football player of 1953 will be named tonight in ceremonies at the Fox Theater.

Head Coach Bobby Dodd, his entire team of two-time Sugar Bowl champions, and the Yellow Jacket band will be on hand.

Fullback Glenn Turner won the award a year ago. Program starts at 9:15 o'clock.

Canada, NFL Open 'Weinmeister War'

Giants' Tackle Goes North;
Club, Czar Bell Up in Arms

A dramatic series of events has evolved into full-scale war between American and Canadian professional football.

First, all-time New York Giants' tackle great Arnie Weinmeister signed a two-year contract with the British Columbia Lions of Vancouver. The Giants threatened legal action against Weinmeister for breach of contract. In Philadelphia, National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell said "the war is on" between the two circuits.

Weinmeister's salary with the new club was not disclosed but an official said the Canadian-born lineman would be "one of the highest-paid players ever to play" north of the U. S. border.

Weinmeister, born in Saskatchewan, was an all-star tackle four straight years with the Giants. He is 30, 6-4, 235. He played for the University of Washington in college.

The Giants, in a statement issued by President John V. Mara, said they held an option on Weinmeister's services for 1954 and already had notified him of their intention of exercising that option. Mara added that Weinmeister "had failed in 1953 to live up to his responsibility as team captain and was destructive of team morale."

Earlier Weinmeister had said at his Seattle home "I've never been happy with the Giants. I don't mean money, coaches or teammates. I mean I don't want to play football where you feel the management hasn't got the best interests of the team and men and game at heart."

Mara said Weinmeister's dissatisfaction arose from the club's refusal to allow him $300-a-week day-for-day laundry expenses in training camp after he had been given an $11,000 salary and received a $4,000 loan from the club.

Commissioner Bell, backing the Giants, said the move would mean warfare with Canadian clubs that "stole" players from the NFL. "They had better start counting their players."

BOBBY JONES (C) ADMIRES GOLD TEE AT NEW YORK WRITERS' PARTY
Former Recipient Eugene Grace (L), Writers' President Linc Werden Look On

Bobby Jones Presented Gold Tee in New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—Bobby Jones, in town to accept the "gold tee" award from the Metropolitan Golf Writers Assn. of New York, today compared his amazing career to Ben Hogan's by noting, "I guess we just tried harder than the other fellows."

"Consistency comes with concentration," said the former amateur star, who swept the amateur and open championships of both the U. S. and Britain in 1930. "I think I tried harder than most of them in my time and while Hogan is a great shot maker I'm sure his willingness to take mental punishment accounts for many of his victories."

The 31-year-old attorney from Atlanta accepted the "gold tee" award for continuous devotion to the game.

President Eisenhower, a close friend of Jones, sent a telegram which said that "I wish I could be at your dinner to congratulate my good friend, Bob Jones personally, and extend greetings to all gathered to honor him. Because of his skill, character and spirit, Bob is one of the all-time champions of American sports. I am delighted to join in this tribute to him."

In a pre-dinner session with the writers, Jones said the big problem of golf instructors was to "shorten the elapsed time between the day a man takes up golf and the day he can begin to enjoy it."

The time varies with the individual, he added, but within a year the average player should score 85 "if he devotes a reasonable amount of time to the game."

Though used sparingly by Manager Gene Mauch, Cristante registered 14 victories last summer. Under the same circumstances, Giggie copped a dozen wins and, at the tail end of the campaign, was one of the better hurlers in the league.

Giggie is subject to the draft, but isn't expected to be called before June, if at all.

Brittin, who looked like a major league prospect in '52 and flopped last season due to a sore arm, may be the most pleasant pitching surprise of '53 to new Manager Whitlow Wyatt. He reports from his home in Springfield, Ill., that his arm feels sound again, and a sound Brittin could mean a lot to the Crackers.

CRISTANTE, GIGGIE, BRITTIN BACK

Sixteen Pitchers Stud 36-Man Crax Roster

By JESSE OUTLAR

If pitching is, as some experts claim, about 80 per cent of the game, then the Atlanta Crackers are headed in the right direction.

Of the 36 players in the Cracker fold, 18 are pitchers. And it's not entirely a matter of quantity. Lee Cristante, Bob Giggie and Jack Brittin form the nucleus for what may develop into a top-drawer staff.

Though used sparingly by Manager Gene Mauch, Cristante registered 14 victories last summer. Under the same circumstances, Giggie copped a dozen wins and, at the tail end of the campaign, was one of the better hurlers in the league. Giggie is subject to the draft, but isn't expected to be called before June, if at all.

Brittin, who looked like a major league prospect in '52 and flopped last season due to a sore arm, may be the most pleasant pitching surprise of '53 to new Manager Whitlow Wyatt. He reports from his home in Springfield, Ill., that his arm feels sound again, and a sound Brittin could mean a lot to the Crackers.

Bob Montag

Earl Wooten

Billy Smith

Lee Cristante

John Fitzgerald, Jack Taylor and Dick McMillin are back for another fling, but they're going to have to show a lot of improvement, if they do much flinging.

Bill Ayers could be the Crackers' finest relief hurler since Hugh Casey. The onetime Cracker ace, now 35, thinks a year's layoff has brought his ailing arm around.

More help will be forthcoming from the Braves, and some of the rookies such as Herb Grison and Glenn Hittner may join under Wyatt's wing. Jim Solt, who shared duties with Jack Parks as a '52 Cracker, and Roy Jarvis, a '53 returnee, head the catching

YOUNG DODD SORE BUT SAFE AFTER 107-STITCH ARM GASH

Bobby (Brother) Dodd Jr. will spend his time with crossword puzzles instead of basketball for a while, but the severely injured 12-year-old son of Georgia Tech's head football coach expects to be back in action soon.

Young Dodd rammed his left arm through a plate glass door of the gymnasium at North Avenue Presbyterian Church Wednesday. He was released from Emory Hospital after having 107 stitches taken in a three-hour operation.

"He's just sitting around, watching television and working crossword puzzles with his good arm," Mrs. Dodd said last night. "He'll be out of school for a while, but the doctors tell us he is mighty lucky no tendons were cut."

Brother, a strapping 115-pounder who (naturally) has his heart set on playing college football some day, will recover full use of the arm.

Par-Wrecker Ogden Leads at San Diego

Chicago Pro Shoots 66;
49 Beat Regulation 72

RANCHO SANTE FE, Calif., Jan. 21 (AP)—A veritable wrecking crew of golf, led by 27-year-old Bill Ogden of Chicago, gave par a thorough dismantling today in the first round of the $15,000 San Diego Open tournament.

No less than 49 players out of a field of 134 starters came in with something under par 36-72 for the Rancho Santa Fe Golf Club course, and leading the parade was Ogden with a crisp 33-66.

Ogden, a native of Sacramento, Calif., but now an assistant professional at North Shore Country Club in the Windy City, scored four birdies and an eagle three to lead the pack by one stroke.

Ogden in the past two years won the Illinois PGA medal and match play trophies, was an amateur star before turning pro four years ago at Sacramento, but has not been too well known nationally.

Tied at 67 were U. S. Amateur champion Gene Littler, San Diego, with 32-35 over a course he knows quite well; Earl Stewart Jr., tournament pro from Dallas, 34-33, and Bob Harris, San Jose, Calif., 35-32.

Included in the 68 bracket were Tommy Bolt, 1953 winner of the tournament; Marty Furgol, Lamont, Ill.; Wally Ulrich, Maplewood, N. J.; Bob Toski, Northampton, Mass.; and Shelley Mayfield, Chicago, Mass.

Putke told reporters he is sending his proposals to the 98 state and sectional boxing commissions affiliated with the NBA and to Robert Christensen, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission. The recommendations are:

1. For a heavyweight elimination tournament involving Ezzard Charles, Roland Le Starza, Nino Valdes and Dan Bucceroni. The winner would meet champion Rocky Marciano in a title bout.

2. That the winner of the lightweight title bout between champion Archie Moore and Joey Maxim next Wednesday in Miami, Fla., sign to meet Harold Johnson in another title match.

3. That the winner of the bout between champion Bobo Olson and welterweight champion Kid Gavilan for the middleweight title next April 2 sign to defend the middleweight crown against Rocky Castellani.

4. That if Gavilan wins the middleweight championship from Olson, the welterweight throne be declared vacant.

That if Gavilan loses to Olson, he sign to defend his welter title against Carmen Basilio.

5. To hold three tuneup fights for featherweight champion Sandy Saddler—two is to be released from the Army in March—after which he would defend his title against Percy Bassett.

Betsy Rawls Takes Tampa Lead on 75

Zaharias, Pung and Riley Fire 77s for Second

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 21 (AP)—Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C., shot even-par 75 today for a two-stroke lead after the first round of the $5,000 Tampa Women's Open golf tournament.

Tied at 77 came two more professionals, Babe Zaharias of Tampa, Fla., Jackie Pung of Honolulu, and amateur Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Texas.

Betsy Rawls

Defending champion Louise Suggs, who shot the front nine in 36, best of the day, went to pieces on the back nine, taking a 43. Her first round 79 put her in a tie for ninth in the 72-hole tournament.

Rawls played just the opposite, having trouble on the first round, when she took 40, and coming back in 35, three under par.

"My putting and chipping started coming back on the last nine, and then I got to hitting everything right," Rawls said.

Zaharias, a two-time winner of this tournament, shot a steady 38-39.

Riley, another former Tampa Open champion, also played a steady game for a 39-38.

Pung, Hawaiian star, went out in par 37 but was two over with 38 on the way back.

Four players edged in next with 78s. They were pros Alice Bauer Hagge of Sarasota, and

Martinez 2-5 Choice Over Casillo

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—Rocky Casillo can punch like his manager Jack Begun can talk. Vince Martinez will be in for a rough time tomorrow night in the 10-round welter match at Madison Square Garden.

Apparently the boys don't think Rocky can live up to Begun's buildup, for Martinez, rookie of the year in 1952, is a 12-5 favorite.

The nation will get a close-up version of the young 147-pounder on radio (ABC) and television (NBC) starting at 10 p.m. (EST).

They were beating the drums for Casillo as the new Rocky Graziano when he came East the first time in mid-October. His defeat by Joey Klein, who later was outclassed by Al Andrews, deflated Casillo. However, Rocky came back to stop Danny Giovannelli in an upset at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway, Nov. 2.

Begun has been exercising his tonsils on long and short wave since the Giovannelli fight in preparation for his Garden debut. He talked about Kid Gavilan, as all good welters do, but wound up with Martinez.

If Martinez wins he'll probably fight Billy Graham in the Garden, Feb. 19 or March 5. If Casillo wins, it may be tough to make the Graham match.

Bob McCain Listed for Gloves Meet

Georgia's 1952 118-pound champion was among four new entries yesterday for the state Golden Gloves tournament which opens Monday at Marietta.

Robert McCain of LaGrange, former open bantam weight king, has entered the 112-pound class this year. Last year he was runner-up in the flyweight division.

Also competing in the open ranks will be LaGrange middleweight Rendell Pike and Rome's Wayne Kirkland and Billy Lucas. Kirkland weighs 125, Lucas 112.

From Atlanta, Jake Whitfield will replace Greater Atlanta titleholder Clifford Penn in the light heavyweight division.

In 1949-50, Whitfield was state novice victor and in 1951 he captured the open middleweight crown. He was dethroned by Penn in the Atlanta finals.

Starting time for the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday fights is 8 p.m.

Weigh-in will be Sunday and Monday at 2 p.m. in Larry Bell Park gym.

BABE BLASTS GAL GOLFERS, 'WASHES HANDS' OF LPGA

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 21 (AP)—Babe Zaharias turned in her Ladies Professional Golf Association membership card in a huff today, let go with some words about some of her sister pros and talked of starting a brand new tournament group.

BABE ZAHARIAS

Her action drew varying comment at the Tampa Women's Open golf tournament.

The Babe was sore about two things:

1. The LPGA's dropping of Fred Corcoran as tournament director after golf equipment manufacturers who had been paying his salary took him off the payroll.

2. An article about pro women golfers by Betty Hicks in the Saturday Evening Post. The Babe said "it wasn't fair" and the "whole article was based on lies."

"I'm washing my hands of the whole thing, both as president and as a member," she declared.

"They released Fred Corcoran without asking me... and they were warned not to do it but went ahead and did it." She praised Corcoran, saying "He has been responsible for the money we're playing for now."

She said she and Corcoran "organized this group in 1948, and now a lot of Johnny-comelatelys are telling us how to run the show. I refuse to be pushed around. They are not treating Corcoran fairly."

The Babe had reference to a committee of LPGA members set up to arrange tournament tours. On the committee are Betty Jameson, San Antonio, Texas; Betsy Rawls, Spartanburg, S. C., and Marilyn Smith, Wichita, Kans.

When Hicks was asked what would happen if the Babe tried to form her own group, she replied: "I think it would be a matter of Babe's playing the exhibitions and our playing the tournaments."

Smith added: "I think the Babe will come around."

Hilltoppers, Aggies Spark Statistics

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—Western Kentucky, one of four undefeated major college basketball teams, has taken over first place in offense with an average of 87.8 points a game, NCAA service bureau statistics showed today.

The other three perfect record teams were doing all right statistically, too. Kentucky (11-0) and Connecticut (14-0) are sixth and eighth, respectively, in offense, and Duquesne (15-0) is third in defense. Western Kentucky's 17th straight victory Wednesday was not included in the statistics.

Ahead of Duquesne defensively are Oklahoma A&M and Oklahoma City, the Aggies yielding 50.3 points a game and Oklahoma City 51.6. Duquesne has a 52.1 mark.

Offensively, there's a lot more doing. Western Kentucky is the third leader in three weeks. Last week's No. 1 was Marshall (W. Va.), which is now fourth with 84.9 behind Miami of Ohio's 85.6 and Seattle's 84.9.

Such averages of better than two points a minute can't be maintained without a goodly number of 100-points-plus performances, and so far there have been 43 turned in by major teams this year.

Duke, Connecticut and Holy Cross have hit 100 or more on three occasions each.

Ford-Led Smithies Block Sylvan Surge

Guard Hits 20 in 57-53 Win; Applegate's 14 High for Bears

By JIMMY MANN

Smith High's basketball team can stand pressure. Sylvan's Bears turned it on full blast last night at Brown gym and the Smithies came out like champions with their eighth straight City League victory, 57-53.

The boys' game was a thriller, and the one just before it was cut from the same pattern. Harriet Burnett and Callie Kennedy stayed off Sylvan for a 33-31 Smith victory.

Burnett rammed home 10 points, six in the rocky final period, and Kennedy kept the winners in front most of the way with 14 points. Barbara Holland pushed in 13 for Sylvan.

Don Ford and Bobby Keanum led Smith's boys' game with 20 and 18 points. Their contributions were necessities as Gerald Hawkins kept regular Smith point-getter Gilbert Adair well under cover. Adair ended the evening with 13, a bad night for him.

Frank Applegate, Hawkins and Rausey Mason also starred in the near miss. Applegate rebounded and scored 14 points. Hawkins played great defensive ball and contributed 11 points. Mason played the boards well and took personal charge of Adair the last half.

Keanum and Ford led Smith to a shaky 13-10 margin at the end of the first quarter.

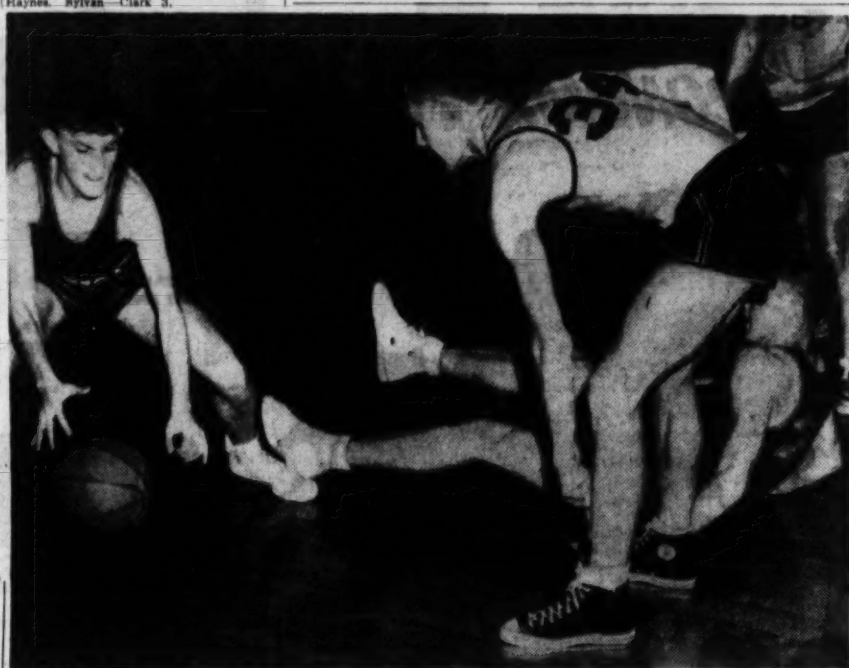

Ford and Keanum also had fine second and third periods and Smith held a 10-point advantage with eight minutes left.

Tow-headed Earl Shell, Hawkins and Applegate led the Bears' desperation charge in the final quarter. Shell brought the full house to its feet after two minutes with a long set shot that closed the gap to 47-45 Smith.

But Keanum, Adair and Albert Tuck swapped the Sylvan basket makers. Applegate, Hawkins and Meredith Clark, point for point the rest of the way and the Bears were never able to take the powerful, fast-breaking Smithies. The Bears drew their last breath with 13 seconds left, a foul shot by sub center Clark, but it was four points short.

Parker Signs Again, Says He's Satisfied

Condensed From Constitution Wire Reports

Buddy Parker, who has guided the Detroit Lions to two straight National Football League titles, signed a new one-year contract yesterday and didn't seem to mind the short terms.

"This will be my 20th season in this league," he said, "and I've never had a contract longer than one year."

The Lion ownership has carefully avoided long agreements since making a five-year deal with the late Bo McMillin, who was paid two seasons for not coaching.

Parker received an estimated $28,000 last year, probably gets a small increase.

Baltimore Colts Don Kellest went to Oklahoma City to try to sign his No. 1 draft choice of 1953—all-America Bill Vessels of Oklahoma.

home—but Vessels, who played in Canada last year, said he wasn't going to sign with anybody until he gets into and out of the Army.

The Washington Redskins signed John Ignarski, guard on 1949-50-51 Kentucky bowl teams. Ignarski has played for Bolling AFB the last two years.

Terry Brennan, 25-year-old Notre Dame assistant, withdrew from consideration as head coach at Marquette. The Hilltoppers seek a successor to Lisle Blackburn, who has taken over the pro Green Bay Packers.

Capt. Felix (Doc) Blanchard, the Mr. Inside of Army's famed wartime 1-2 punch of Blanchard and (Glenn) Davis, will leave Tyndall Field, Fla., Jan. 28 to become plebe football coach at West Point.

Cincinnati head coach Sid Gillman says he doesn't want the NC State job vacated by Horse Hendrickson. "I'm happy," says Gillman, rumored as a possible Wolfpack choice.

The NBA aimed a knockout blow at ring champs who avoid meeting top challengers. It recommended an elimination tournament between Ez Charles, Roland LaStarza, Nino Valdes and Dan Buccerini for a shot at Rocky Marciano's title; that the Bobo Olson-Kid Gavilan middleweight title-fight winner meet Rocky Castellani for the crown; that the welter championship be declared vacant if Gavilan beats Olson, and that if Gavilan loses he defend his welter crown against Carmen Basilio.

John Landy ran a 4:02.4 mile, fifth fastest ever recorded, at Melbourne, but may have missed Gunder Haegg's world record of 4:01.4, because a roaring crowd of 25,000 kept him from hearing lap-times called to him from the sidelines.

Rush Prince beat 11 other crack sprinters in the first division of Hialeah Park's Osceola Purse, paying $20.50, $9.10 and $6.70, after whipping Mohammedan and Freedom Parley. Judge Lane paid $130.20, $40 and $14.80 to beat Seventh Tribe and Brookridge in the Nord Golden Age feature at the Fair Grounds. Sweet as Honey won the $17,400 La Centella Stakes at Santa Anita, topping Michalek and Sickle's Gem and paying $6, $3.30 and $2.90.

Blondheim's 29.0 Top AA Mark

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

Gangling Harry Blondheim, Russell High's eagle-eyed senior forward from East Point who finished in 28th place among the state's Class AA high school basketball scoring leaders a year ago, is Mr. Big in these early stages of the 1954 point derby.

Blondheim, who had 352 points in 26 games for a 13.5 average in 1953, has pumped in 87 points in three Region 4-AA games for an astronomical average of 29 points per outing. In 14 over-all games through last weekend he had 301 points for a 21.5 average.

Marvin Fordham of Thompson's Robert E. Lee, who finished in 24th spot a season back when North Fulton's Wade Mitchell, Bass' Lane Akers and Boys' Catholic's Danny MacGregor finished one-two-three in state point-making totals, is in second place and throwing an average of 21.3 points per game at 1-AA foes. He slipped in 64 points in his first three outings.

Academy is the first familiar name from the 1953 leaders to greet the eye in 1954. The lanky Augustan, also a crack baseball shortstop, is third and firing at a 19.6 clip or a bit better than his 17.8 that landed him in fifth place behind Grady's Richard Austin (18.8) in final 1953 listings.

Joe Marco, nifty North Fulton junior; Billy Salter, O'Keefe

Catholic's Bo Weigle, Smith's Bobby Keanum, Roosevelt's Jack Bush.

DeLany finished 1953 at 12.3 in 23d place, now he's 21st at 14.5. Weigle, 27th with a 13.7 average then, is 16.5 and 15th now. Keanum was 23d with 14.4, now 17th with 14.5. Bush was 12th then with 15.7, now is 27th with 13.6.

Ronnie Rush and Cleon Lewis, unbeaten Savannah Commercial's awesome two-somes, are eighth and tied for ninth with 15.3 and 17.3 averages, and teammate Billy Long is eleventh at 17.0. Six-two Eddie Moncrief, of unconquered Moultrie, is the other 17.3 lad, tied with Lewis.

Some 33 Class AA players are hitting the nets at a 13-points-per-game clip or better, indicating a wide open battle for the scoring crown probably will rage up until just before the state tournament, which again will be sponsored by The Atlanta Constitution and the Georgia High School Association, Feb. 23-27, at the city auditorium.

Last-Second Shot Wins for Marist

Brisbane's Bucket Downs Decatur in Overtime, 46-44

By GENE ASHER

They picked up Bubber Brisbane and almost carried him off the court last night, for this was the one Marist's Cadets wanted and Brisbane got it for them—in overtime.

In one of the craziest and most thrilling games of the year, Brisbane connected on a last-second set shot that gave Marist a 46-44 victory over Decatur; just when it looked as if the two teams would go into a second overtime.

Brisbane's goal gave Boots Payne's Cadets their second Region 4-AA triumph and handed Lefty Thompson's Bulldogs their fourth setback.

But Decatur's Bill Boland made the shot of the year when he hooked in a one-hander from back of the half-court line. This one, also a last-second effort, tied it, 40-40, and sent the game into overtime.

It was Brisbane, however, who turned in the clutch performance. In the last minute of the fourth period, his free throw gave Marist a two-point margin and in the extra period's opening minute, he sank his second and third straight foul shots which brought the Cadets from behind and into a 42-42 deadlock.

After these tosses, Marist was never headed. Joe McGee, who shared scoring honors with Brisbane at 15, hit two free throws for a 44-42 lead. Boland tied it again in the last minute and Brisbane took it all in the last second.

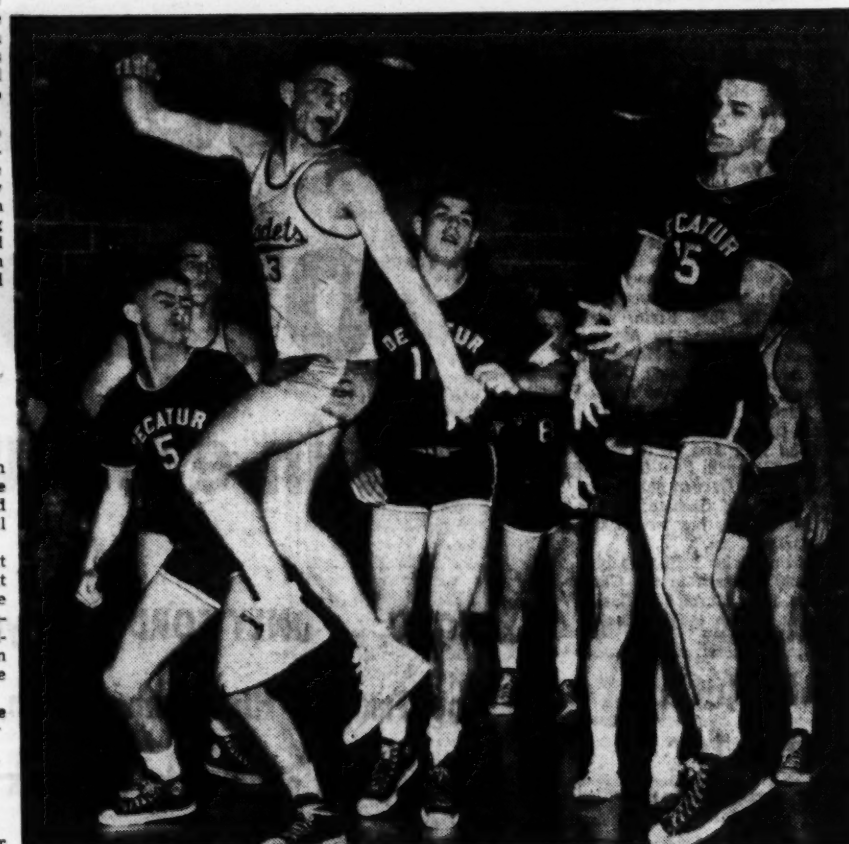

This was a madcap affair from the start. Decatur hit only one field goal in the first quarter and Marist didn't even do that well in the second.

The Decatur, trailing 14-2 at the end of the first period, went out at halftime, 17-17. Charlie Maynard, top point-getter for Decatur with 14, led the second-quarter comeback with seven points while Marist hit only three free throws.

The lead changed hands nine

Dodd, Lancaster Lead Eagles

Mel Dodd and Peanut Lancaster sparked the Fraternal Order of Eagles to a 64-53 basketball victory over the U.S. Naval Air Station at O'Keefe Gym last night in a City Recreation League game.

GOTCHA!—Decatur High's Earl Fuller gives basketball a growl and a grab after rebound in Bulldogs' 46-44 loss to Marist last night. Marist's Joe Gretenrath finds himself all up in the air with nothing to do as tense Decaturites Charles Maynard (5), Jimmy Webb (12) and Tom Scarborough (8) watch Fuller's retrieve.

Free Throws Win No. 12 For Colonials

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Jan. 21 (AP)—George Washington's Colonials, playing without star guard Elliott Karver, ran into unexpected resistance from off-beaten Virginia tonight before finally winning their 12th game, 73-71.

George Washington picked up 33 points on fouls, more than half of these by sophomore center Joe Holup, who scored 17 times on 19 attempts. Joe, the younger of the Holup brothers who furnish GW with much of its scoring punch, added four field goals to become the game's high point man with 25 points. His brother, John, a forward, had 19.

Southern Wins

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Jan. 21 (AP)—Mississippi Southern won its 16th basketball game of the season tonight with a hard-fought 62-55 victory over East Texas State. Forward Bob Weathers and center Mutt Watts paced Southern with 16 points each. High point man for East Texas was center Jim Miller with 15.

ATLANTA BOWLS

Tenpin Kingpin Has Little Spare Time

By JIMMY MANN

L. E. Workman, keeper of the figures in the City Tenpin League rolling at the Buckhead Bowling Center, has no easy job.

Workman's job is keeping track of every pin that is knocked over by a league member, then tabulating the total scores and flogging over names of leaders after every session.

But at the rate the teams are going, Workman is slowly going crazy. After more than 50 games only four games separate the top team from the sixth-place outfit. In one week, AGD rose from fifth spot in the league into a tie for second.

Randall Brothers controls the pin-busting so far, but Workman expects a new leader weekly.

Randall is composed of Frank Schroes, Bill Haskins, Andy Pliner, Fred Ivey and Ed Whitehead. They have won 34 games and lost 20. Second-place Miller's High Life has 32-22, the same as the Atlanta General Depot unit.

Jack Pearce blushed over the telephone when asked who won the Atlanta mixed doubles event at the Luckie Strike house last Saturday.

"Well, uh . . . you see, uh . . . my partner and I edged Billy and Allie Allen," he said.

Pearce and partner, Joan Thompson, rolled 1,224 for 10 games. The Allens knocked down 1,211.

Third place went to Truman Cowart and Daneen Kilpatrick, who tipped over 1,185.

FIT BITS: Play at the Palace

Bowling Center is in high gear. Some of the high averages in the various loops: Plantation Pipe Line—Joe Huffman 151, Betty Hendricks 130, tenpins; General Depot—W. E. Tankersley 108, duckpins; Sinclair Refining Company—Hugh Jackson 100, Betty McCarty 89, duckpins; Lutheran Church—W. C. Doshees 105, duckpins. . . . Don Pegal of the Knights of Columbus and Al Perkinson of Philco are deadlocked for the high average lead in the City Tenpin League at Buckhead with 174 marks each. . . . Fred Ivey holds the high game record for the league with an excellent 241. . . . Scripto's duckpin league at the Palace has Al Eschehorst as the top male bowler with a 101 mark and Betty Beck pacing the women with an 84 average. . . . Tallest sets at the Luckie Strike Bowling Alley last week were bowled by Doyle Darden (426) and Albert Burrell (400). . . . In the recent Brunswick bowling tournament held throughout the nation, an Atlantan won money in his very first tourney. Dan Gibbey received $50. . . . Dick Nelson, a 126-average duckpinner, plans a 126-trip to North Carolina this weekend for the Southern Singles tournament.

Cotton Closes Irregularly

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 45 cents a bale higher to 30 cents lower today. Most of the trading centered in old crop months which closed steady. New crop months first maintained small gains and then sagged on light liquidation.

The agreement between Senate-House conferees, boosting 1934 national cotton acreage above more than 3,000,000 acres, the 17,900,000 figure set by the Department of Agriculture, had little apparent effect on new crop futures. The acreage action had been anticipated.

Meanwhile, old crop months drew strength from the larger weekly cotton loan figures reported late Wednesday, coupled with more optimistic views on the textile outlook.

Switching from nearby March to later months persisted as traders transferred positions from March in anticipation of first no-day on Feb. 19.

Air Stocks Soar, Pace Mixed Day

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—Air-transport stocks were the best performers today in an irregular stock market.

They got a boost when President Eisenhower recommended 22 percent of the defense budget be devoted to aircraft.

Leader in that division was Douglas Aircraft up 3 to 88 1/2 after touching a new 1953-54 high of 89 1/2. Douglas had the added push of excellent earnings.

The market was steady in the beginning and then prices improved a bit. Thereafter it was rather irregular with that tendency persisting to the close.

The hesitancy in the market was accompanied by narrowness in the list and diminished volume. Yesterday the stock market was higher for the sixth time out of the past seven sessions.

Cautiousness was expected in view of the President's budget message, but there was no marked reaction after its release at noon EST.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 10 cents at $111.90. As a consequence the day will go into the records as a decline. But the mixed nature of things was shown by the fact that the industrial component of the average was up 20 cents, while the railroads were off 30 cents, and the utilities held unchanged.

ELECTED—H. H. Ware Jr., a member of the law firm of Crenshaw, Hensell, Ware and Brandon, has been elected to the board of directors of Fulton County Federal Savings and Loan Assn. He attended Mercer University and is a graduate of Atlanta Law School. He is a member of the Lawyers Club of Atlanta and the Georgia Bar Assn. and is a former alumni trustee of Mercer University.

"The sting of taxes is alleviated when we think of this as an investment for our protection."—Article quote.

It seems today there is a trend . . . of thought, that some day we shall find . . . a way to peace, that wars may end . . . which pleases me for I'm the kind . . . that hopes such prospects are in sight . . . and I should like to see it done . . . for I am much too weak to fight . . . and much too old and fat to run.

And there's another trend of thought . . . with which most of us will agree . . . that is: we never should be caught . . . without the stuff to keep us free . . . and if the taxes we pay . . . are necessary for defense . . . I don't think anyone could say . . . that didn't make good common sense.

Since paying taxes is a "must" . . . all we can do is hope and pray . . . that those in whom we place our trust . . . will use it in the proper way . . . perhaps there is a little food . . . for thought in this, for thinking men . . . but you won't find us in this mood . . . when March the Fifteenth comes again.

Opening lead: 5 of hearts.

Texas featured prominently in the national championships of the American Contract Bridge League recently held in Dallas. Paul Hodge, an Abilene, Tex., lawyer, who had previously won the opening event as a member of the Texas men's team of four, made it two in a row as he captured the mixed pair title with Mrs. Hodge as his partner. This was Mrs. Hodge's first national tournament, and so far as our records reveal, it is the first time this event has been won by a husband and wife team.

The winning couple gained a great many points on the hand shown today when they contracted for a small slam at the trump and succeeded in winning all the tricks. Mr. Hodge in the South position opened with one diamond, and Mrs. Hodge chose to temperize with a bid of one spade, though the more orthodox procedure with an evenly balanced hand containing 16 points and stoppers in all suits, would have been a call of three no trump. South then showed his clubs, and North jumped to three no trump. With 16 points in high cards alone, Mr. Hodge realized the possibilities of a slam, but with his unbalanced holding considered that the hand might play with greater ease at a suit contract. He, therefore, took out the three no trump bid to four clubs. This described a five-card club suit and, by inference, therefore, at least a five-card diamond suit.

This take-out of three no trump to a minor suit is forcing, of course, and strongly suggests a slam. North returned temporarily to partner's first suit by bidding four diamonds, whereupon Mr. Hodge leaped directly to slam. North, with splendid fits in both minor suits and strong holdings in the majors, decided that with her lack of ruffing values the hand would play as well at no trump and sought the higher reward of the no-trump slam.

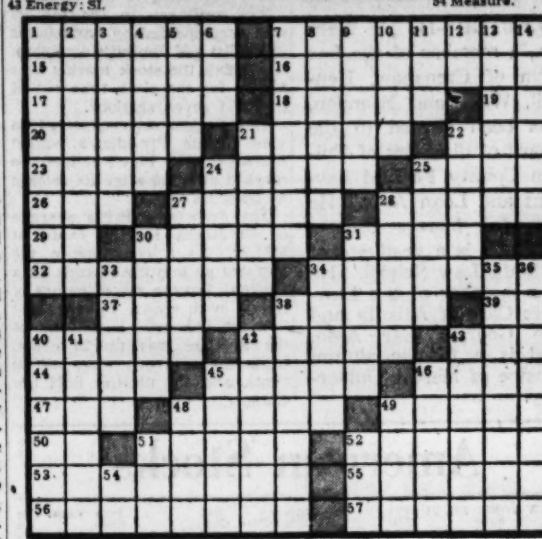

The 5 of hearts was opened, and Mrs. Hodge made all 13 tricks on a fortunate guess in clubs. When the East hand played the ten under her ace, she concluded that East had no more clubs, or the queen alone; so going up with the king, she picked up five tricks in that suit. Now when the diamond finesse succeeded, she took in all the tricks for a top score on the deal.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

'Gift Menu' Spurs Church Fund Drive

Tim G., aged 38, is a faithful church pastor.

"Dr. Crane, we need a great many improvements in our church," he began.

"But our treasurer finds it difficult to raise the money. So have you any psychological suggestions?"

MENU MAGIC

Yes, follow the menu plan which many hotel restaurants employ for breakfasts.

Breakfast No. 1 may include orange juice, toast and coffee for 75c.

Breakfast No. 2 may include the same, plus one egg, all for $1.00.

Breakfast No. 3 may offer cereal, juice, an egg and coffee for $1.25. And so it goes.

The diner then shops down the list till he finds the meal which matches his appetite and pocket-book.

Well, people like to give money not to general funds but to special projects which they can see and gloat over as their pet projects.

So get one of the advertising men in your church to prepare a "Gift Menu" for it will work magic.

Start out with a $5 or $10 and box or other toys for the primary department in the Sunday

Then list some $25 items, such as 24 song books, with the donor's name inscribed in each one.

GOD'S HOUSE

Include $100 gifts, as for the church kitchen. Then move on to a $300 refrigerator.

Include other items in the $300 to $500 range, such as a sound motion picture projector with appropriate rented films.

Remember, the church is God's house, so you can easily interest

"If you make Papa mad before he goes out, you get better results. He takes it out on the rugs!"

Questions Answered

V. Y. writes: When I lean my right elbow on a table or chair I have a most peculiar pins and needles sensation. I do not recall injuring the arm in any way. What could this mean?

A pins and needles sensation often indicates pressure on a nerve. If the condition persists, have this possibility investigated.

Mrs. L. writes: Can glaucoma be detected by drops?

No. Increased tension within the eyeball is detected through an instrument (tonometer) made especially for this purpose. But certain drops are used in treatment to lower tension.

F. J. T. writes: Occasionally I get a very sharp pain in the right big toe. Does this indicate the start of some ailment?

Most of us are bothered from time to time with pains and aches that are of no consequence. On the other hand, they may be the precursor of rheumatism, gout, strain, or poor circulation, but more time must elapse before the distress can be evaluated properly.

D. P. writes: What is the treatment of hammer toe in adults?

If manipulation, padding, or splinting of the toe does not correct the deformity, operation is required. In this procedure, the joint is opened and cut in such a way the surgeon is able to straighten the toe.

M. G. writes: Will surgical removal of calluses prevent them from recurring?

No, unless the source (fallen arches or too small shoes) is corrected also.

By chewing coca leaves which contain cocaine, primitive peoples in Peru believe they can abolish fatigue and increase their physical and mental powers.

Polio Dimes Help Create Giant Eagle

WSB-telev viewers contributed 2,467 dimes to help cartoonist Mac Atcheson create a special March of Dimes poster which was unveiled on the popular Today in Georgia show yesterday.

A giant eagle, created entirely of dimes sent in by viewers, was fashioned by the cartoonist who is featured on the show each day, Monday through Friday, at 9 a.m. Atcheson kept secret his subject of the cartoon until the special unveiling.

WSB-TV reported it had already received 700 dimes in a new effort to create a map of Georgia from dimes received in the March of Dimes effort.

Stop Taking Harsh Drugs for Constipation

Avoid Intestinal Upset! Get Relief This Gentle Vegetable Laxative Way!

For constipation, never take harsh drugs. They cause brutal cramps and griping, disrupt normal bowel action, make repeated doses seem needed.

When you are temporarily constipated, get relief but gentle relief—without salts, without harsh drugs. Take Dr. Caldwell's Senna Laxative contained in Syrup Pepsin. The extract of Senna in Dr. Caldwell's is one of the finest natural laxatives known to medicine.

Dr. Caldwell's Senna Laxative tastes good, gives gentle, comfortable, satisfying relief of temporary constipation for every member of the family. Helps you get "on schedule" without repeated doses. Even relieves stomach sourness that constipation often brings.

Buy Dr. Caldwell's. Money back if not satisfied. Mail bottle to Box 280, New York 18, N. Y.

Proper Brewing Saves Mourning Coffee Price

By JEANNE HIGGINS
Constitution Food Editor

It would take five years to raise a coffee tree in your back yard, even in favorable climate.

It would take five years to supply you with enough beans to provide your brew for one year.

If you prefer a demitasse you might grow your coffee in a window box.

These solutions aren't practical. The best formula for living with the rising price of coffee is to stretch the pound of coffee to its last drop of usefulness.

PRICES FLUCTUATE

Coffee prices have been fluctuating since last July according to J. D. Anderson, president of a local coffee company, who says it is presently unknown at what level coffee prices will stabilize. Although prices are certain to soar above one dollar per pound Anderson says, it is of equal possibility for prices to come down or continue to fluctuate.

Since coffee is considered a necessity and not just a refreshment in our country today, a noticeable resistance to prices is not expected from consumers.

Foremost in importance when buying coffee is to select a brand that gives most for the money. It often pays, in the long run to buy the best grade obtainable, even though it costs slightly more per pound. The result will be more cups to the pound of richer-tasting beverage.

Determine the measurements that suit your family's tastes and follow them accurately, using the same proportions every time. Make only what is needed for one meal, since warmed over coffee loses much of its flavor.

NEVER BOIL COFFEE

Coffee should never be boiled, and should be served as soon as desired strength is reached.

The first rule for making good coffee is to be sure that the pot is thoroughly cleaned after each use. Coffee contains oils which cling to the inside of the pot and become rancid when exposed to air, causing a stale taste in the next brew.

Since most households would find it difficult to function without that morning cup of hot coffee, be sure every cup is made fresh and full-flavored. And remember that one good cup is preferable to two that are not made well. It will pay you to get the most out of your coffee.

City Life Deserted for 'Blue Hills'

By DOTTY LUNDY
Constitution Staff Writer

GRAY, Jan. 21 — A Mt. Vernon home commanding 212 acres of rolling pasture near here was almost christened "Black Anguish," finally named "Blue Hills" and may soon be called "Golden Fleece." All the place needed was Angus cattle for the first moniker.

The home and farm of Mrs. Ida Belle Alexander and her two children, Will, 11, and Marcia, 14, was built and harrowed with their own hands. As Marcia says, "Folks just took out and never put anything in 'til Mama got the farm." Blue Hills had changed hands almost annually for the 10 years past.

The family came South about three years ago after Mrs. Alexander's father decided to retire in Macon. Though he died a few weeks before his plans were to materialize, the Alexanders accompanied the children's grandmother. After half a year of city life in Macon, Mrs. Alexander bought the homestead as a residence.

SHEEP THROWN IN

But the owner threw in six sheep with the transaction which started the Alexanders to farming. Mrs. Alexander's previous rural experience was limited to vacations on her uncle's ranch in Oklahoma as a child.

The first wool was clipped with sewing shears and six out of 11 lambs died. Now the flock has grown to 120, grazing on 135 acres of permanent pasture. When the Alexanders weren't plowing or putting up fences, they set themselves to remodeling the farmhouse.

Mrs. Alexander called in an architect at first, but after he said a Mt. Vernon porch would never work, she replied with a firm, "Thanks, and goodbye." Then the displaced Yankees began knocking out partitions, putting in new windows and a roof.

They replaced the white siding with used brick from the razed Macon YMCA. Beginning with one drip, they now have three baths. The living room had to be papered twice because the glue came through the first time. Shelves were built at one end of the living room and an Adams fireplace from the grandmother's home in Macon installed at the other.

Antiques, such as the slant top secretary of Birdseye maple, cobbler's bench and long sofa imported from Italy create a warm, inviting interior.

But the Alexander's insist they still have lots of work to do.

BIG PROJECT PLANNED

The big project now is finishing the bedroom-den. They chose Canadian spruce for paneling. Old posts were salvaged from the farm for beams and given a driftwood finish. The mantel over the brick fireplace came from an old sill found in a junkyard. The floor, of random width hardwood, was hand pegged.

The Alexanders were forced to hire day labor — carpenters, brick layers and bulldozer operators from time to time, but the men found it rough going working beside dynamic Mrs. Alexander and the two youngsters.

East Point Women to Hear Business Men

Three prominent local businessmen will address the East Point Woman's Club at a luncheon meeting at 11 a.m. Friday at the club house.

Helen Hayes to Lead Grand March Here

By ANNIE LOU HARDY

Further plans for the Crystal Ball to be held at the Biltmore on Friday evening, Jan. 29, with Helen Hayes, first lady of the dramatic stage, as honor guest, call for Miss Hayes to lead the grand march at the ball with Jesse Draper, permanent chairman of the Fulton-DeKalb chapter of the Pólio Foundation, sponsor of the event.

Preceding the ball Mr. and Mrs. James D. Robinson Jr. will entertain at dinner for Miss Hayes at their W. Pace's Ferry Road residence.

Mayor William B. Hartsfield will escort the visitor to the party and will introduce her to the audience upon her arrival at the ball, after which she will make a brief talk. John O. Chiles will serve as master of ceremonies at the ball which will be televised by WSB-TV.

En route to Atlanta Miss Hayes will be the guest of President and Mrs. Eisenhower at the White House in Washington. The day of her arrival here she will be the luncheon guest of Mrs. Philip Alston Jr. at her W. Paces Ferry Road home.

Among out-of-town guests attending the ball will be Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Martin of Columbus who will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Northcutt.

One of the largest parties of the evening will be that at which Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Ballard will be hosts.

Completing the party will be Mr. and Mrs. James Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Killian Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Shippey, Mr. and Mrs. Barnard Murphey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles West, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hanahan, Mr. and Mrs. George Blount, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Patton and Mr. and Mrs. John Agar.

Boyer to Address South Carolina Club

Haskell L. Boyer, director of the Atlanta Choral Guild and Atlanta Symphony Chorus, will speak to the South Carolina Club at a luncheon meeting at 11 a.m. Monday at the Atlanta Woman's Club.

"Music in Atlanta" will be Mr. Boyer's subject. Miss Mary Frances Simmons will be hostess at luncheon.

Subtle, Refined Punishments

The State Board of Education has finally decided it has not the right to ban children under 18 from school, even if they are married. Come to think of it, I don't know why any of us ever thought a boy or girl should stop school just because they were wed. If there was ever a time when you need such education as you can get it's when you take on the responsibilities of family life—and if your parents are willing to give you lunch money and buy your school supplies and let you contribute a dime to the various causes that the other kids support, well why not?

But I do think the school board would do well to discourage marriage among the grammar school set. Personally, I don't see how young folks can get through those fifth grade fractions in a state of single blessedness, much less take on the distractions of married life.

Seriously, the school board did take a stand on corporal punishment which certainly seems to be warranted. The alleged "spanking" of a blind child at the Macon Academy for the Blind precipitated the action of the board and as bad as that punishment seems from the parents' charges, I'm convinced it is not an isolated case. I don't mean that beating a child to the point of leaving tell-tale bruises on his body happens often in our schools. I hope that is rare. But from time to time you get a report of a child who has been slapped in the face by a teacher and that is a peculiarly humiliating kind of punishment no child should be subjected to.

Unfortunately, there are other forms of punishment so subtle and refined the school board will never ferret them out and outlaw them. That is the whip of sarcasm which any grownup can wield effectively against a child. Children don't understand sarcasm and they have no defense against it and it's cowardly of us adults, parents or teachers to use it. Public ridicule is another punishment which, sadly enough, is not unheard of in our classrooms.

The other day I heard of a teacher who makes nasty fun of a little fat boy in her room. She is the one who jibes at the poor students and calls attention to the little ones in run-over shoes and too-short dresses. She is, it goes without saying, a mean, ugly person who has no more business working with children than, as Muv is wont to say, a hog has with a saddle.

Happily her little victims will probably escape her room and emerge into the freedom and light of another teacher's room next year. And maybe the next teacher will be sensitive and understanding enough to undo the damage that she has done because, fortunately, the good teacher seems to predominate these days.

Teachers by the very nature of their calling have to be better people than most of us. They have to possess the patience and the sympathy and the blessed kindness which some of us have in short measure only. When you see the good ones at work you marvel because you know they must be prey to the same private devils that beset the rest of us. They have migraine and loose fillings and troublesome bills and feelings of frustration, even as you and I. But they are pledged not to take this out on the children they teach.

If spanking has not been outlawed heretofore in all schools, it's high time it were.

Overweight Shortens Life, Lessens Enjoyment of Years

By IDA JEAN KAIN

The strongest argument against a return to your old, fattening ways of overeating is this: Overweight not only shortens life, but lessens the enjoyment of the years. And the most common cause of overweight is poor food habits.

Many overweights are malnourished. When the meals furnish an abundance of calories but are lacking in tissue building materials (protein and minerals) or body regulators (minerals and vitamins), body tissues are in a poor state of nutrition—excess pounds to the contrary.

Not all overweights are poorly nourished. If you eat balanced meals but include so many fattening foods that the fuel calories are far in excess of your needs, you will be well-nourished—but too burdened with excess pounds to look and feel your best.

Trouble is, abounding fat always has been popularly regarded as a sign of robust health. But anything that shortens life can hardly be regarded as healthy, can it?

HARD TO SPOT

About those poor food habits—it's not always easy to spot them. But if you are fond of starches and sweets, your food pattern may be something like this: Breakfast—doughnuts or buttered toast, jelly, and coffee. Lunch—a sandwich, pie or cake and coffee. Since this fails to hold over, you may eat a candy bar in the late afternoon.

The sweet takes the edge off appetite for good wholesome foods, so perhaps dinner is a lopsided affair—largely carbohydrates. That plan furnishes calories galore, but little protection. You are on a deficiency diet, and hidden hunger follows. Hidden hunger is tissue hunger which leads to a nagging, unsatisfied feeling and so you continue to overeat.

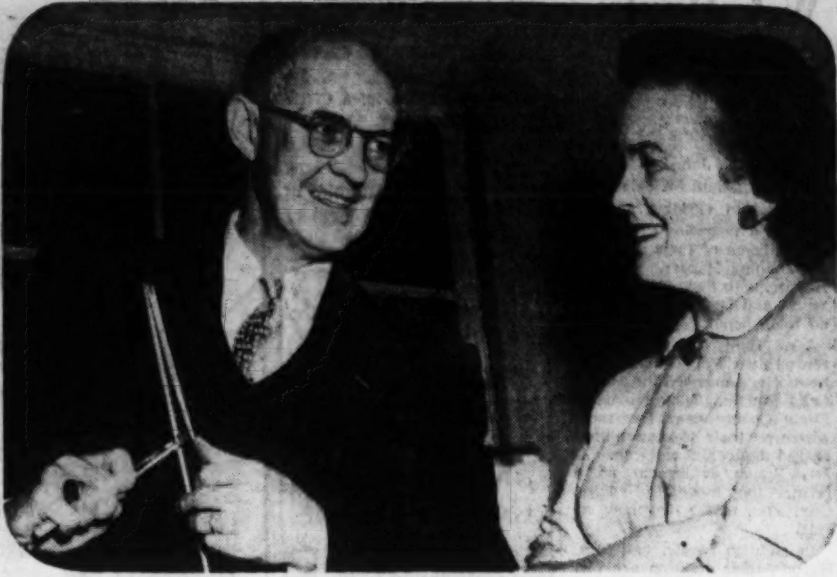

WEIGH REGULARLY

With the protective way of eating you may for a time crave sweets and starches, but the craving steadily diminishes. Then you can take dessert or leave it, but you will not feel compelled to eat it. This does not mean you will not enjoy a favorite dessert occasionally. You will relish the delicate flavor more, but you will not want to overeat or feel the need for desserts daily.

To keep pounds in check, weigh regularly. If the pointer

Rep. Hamilton Lokey Receives a Smiling Approval from His Wife

Man I Married

'Life Perfect,' Says Mrs. Lokey

By YOLANDE GWIN

The man Muriel Mattson of Toconna, Wash., married during World War II loves, people.

"And so do I. That makes everything perfect," confesses Mrs. Hamilton Lokey, wife of a prominent Atlanta lawyer and Fulton County representative in the Georgia Legislature.

One in a Series

"I think one of his main characteristics is his sense of humor. He is extremely punctual and neat. He has a mania for cleaning and the basement is one of his main bases of operation. "There is a hands off rule regarding his tool box. He keeps everything in place. I actually think he could find any tool in the dark. One of his hobbies is seeing that all things are in working order, such as door knobs or light fixtures."

CONSIDERATE

Rep. Lokey, says his wife, is "considerate enough to eat anything I prepare and say its good. But there's one exception. I learned that soon after we married. He will not eat sweet breads. No, he does not cook, but I suppose he could."

"One of his main loves is the Navy. He went back into service after World War II. In fact, his loyalty to the Navy has gone so far that he still wears black ties and socks as he did when an officer. The family gave him some colored ties for Christmas and I think we have gotten him to agree to wearing one every now and then. But he still wears Navy underwear!"

HE-MAN TUSSELE

Mrs. Lokey, who met her husband when he was serving with the Navy on the West Coast, says her husband "is just wonderful with the children."

There is quite a he-man tussle between the three boys and their dad every night before bedtime. They all go to Sunday school together.

The couple has four children — Hamilton Jr., Billy, Fletcher and Ann, who is the baby.

The pretty young blond wife says she "is so very proud" of her husband. "He is so honest about everything that I am just thrilled to death." He collects records, mostly classical but with a dash of Spike Jones.

Annie Lou Hardy Mrs. Charles Parham Lands Big Sailfish

A petite Atlanta matron, Mrs. Charles V. Parham, is the latest member of the fishing fraternity entitled to fly a sailfish flag from the mast of her boat, for she landed a giant sailfish the first of this week while fishing with her husband at Marathon, Florida.

The pair left 10 days ago for some trout fishing in the Indian River near Vero Beach, Fla., but cold weather drove them further south to that fisherman's paradise, the Florida Keys.

It was while on a deep-sea fishing trip that Mrs. Parham, the former Jane Adair, caught a 5½-foot sailfish, to say nothing of a 50-pound amberjack and numerous king and Spanish mackerel. The Parhams will return to Atlanta on Sunday, stopping in Valdosta en route for a visit to Mr. Parham's sister and a day of quail hunting.

MRS. ANDREW CALHOUN, Mrs. Worth Yankey and Mrs. Rufus Dorsey have returned from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., where they were guests of that former Atlantan, Mrs. Agnes Ladson.

MRS. EDWARD LUMMUS will return today to her home in Columbus after a visit to her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Shackleton, on Springdale Dr.

MRS. RUTH WATERS has arrived from France where she spent the past two years in Cannes and Paris, and is a guest at the Georgian Terrace.

JULIA LOWMY JONES, two-and-a-half-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Baxter Jones Jr., will be christened at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church. Dr. Harry Fifield will officiate.

An antique silver goblet that originally belonged to the baby's great-grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. John Watson Porter of Madison, will be used for the baptism. It was also used at the christenings of the baby's mother, the former Julia Block, and her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Bates Block.

Members of the family will gather for the service, and afterward they will be entertained at tea at the Peachtree St. home of Mr. and Mrs. Jones.

BRIG. GEN. FRANK C. HOLBROOK, commanding general of the Atlanta General Depot, and Mrs. Holbrook have as their guests the former's mother, Mrs. Lucius R. Holbrook, who will remain in Atlanta until March.

At that time Mrs. Holbrook plans to go to Madrid, Spain, to visit another son and daughter, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Lucius R. Holbrook Jr. She will be accompanied on the trip by Mrs. J. Walker Davidson of Boise, Idaho.

MISS RUTH WEEGAND, Woman of the Year in Education, will be honor guest at a luncheon to be given tomorrow at 1 o'clock at the East Lake Country Club by Miss Caroline Hall. Covers will be placed for 12 guests.

MRS. CLIFFORD PIERSON will return Sunday by plane from Miami Beach, where she has spent the past 10 days.

DAILY GUIDE—There should be little excuse for one to let this day go by without learning something. In order to keep the mind flexible it is necessary for it to be exercised! This is an excellent day for you to read something interesting and think about it, or to discuss with agreeable friends some subject which is not in your everyday conversations. Learn a new word, a fact, or some little skill, which while it might not seem usable right now, will at least have given exercise and flexibility and versatility to your mind. Don't look for any big worlds to conquer—but just see what you can do within the area around you. Other people and circumstances are likely to fall into your plan with surprising smoothness. It is a day when you can fit all the little jobs to be done into the time like a jigsaw puzzle—IF you use your head!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, AQUARIUS! Today should prove harmonious and pleasant for you, and you can be at your best during the coming week. In the next few months, up to May, you have the advantage of smoother going, if you are going somewhere. Naturally, you can't benefit if you are stalling around. Promote your cultural interests, take a vacation, enjoy a hobby, improve your social life—or if you are eligible look around for romance. Some complications are on the agenda for this year, so the period to May offers the best for the year. Later obstacles could make it tougher and not nearly as profitable.

A WEEKLY ADVERTISING COLUMN OF THINGS NEW AND INTERESTING
New York, Jan. 21—A child with chest cold misery needs fast, comforting relief...so let me remind you again that you can always depend on CHILDREN'S BEN-GAY! Just rub it on chest, throat and neck...and almost at once your young moppet will begin to breathe easier and feel better! That's because CHILDREN'S BEN-GAY is a mild version of famous regular BEN-GAY (a favorite rub-in for generations!)...contains the same pain-relieving ingredients with more lanolin for a child's sensitive skin! CHILDREN'S BEN-GAY comes in the blue package at all Drug Stores...and let me send you this:

A MOTHER'S LIFE is a busy one...there's so much we have to do that we often "miss" very important things...like giving our children SCOTT'S Emulsion every day! It's a "must" in my opinion...for SCOTT'S is powerful food-ionic nourishment that supplies natural A&D vitamins and energy-building natural oil factors plus added minerals. That's why SCOTT'S helps build stamina, real resistance to colds when the diet doesn't supply enough vitamins A&D. It's a real body-builder as well, for it helps youngsters grow up with strong bones, healthy teeth and sturdy bodies, too. Just ask your doctor...then I'm sure you'll ask for SCOTT'S Emulsion without delay.

CHECK YOUR SHOPPING LIST carefully today...be sure you have everything you need for a grand week-end. And I do mean everything...especially something to take if you should feel headachy or sluggish due to the need of a laxative. I'm talking about SAL HEPATICA, of course...for if you become constipated during the day and take sparkling SAL HEPATICA one-half hour before supper you'll feel fine again by bedtime...wake up next day on "top o' the world"! SAL HEPATICA is also a fast-acting antacid...quickly sweetens a sour stomach at the same time. So remember SAL HEPATICA...the gentle, speedy laxative you can always depend on!

I'VE SOLVED A PROBLEM that most mothers meet...found a way to help get my youngsters to eat a good, healthful breakfast. It's so easy, too...I just serve them creamy-smooth CREAM OF RICE and they "lick their platters clean." And that pleases me to perfection...because so many doctors recommend CREAM OF RICE since it's easier to digest, gives quicker nutrition and more energy up with Vitamins B₁, B₂ and Niacin added, plus iron for rich, red blood and better growth. What's more, it's almost an instant cereal now...cooks in only 1/2 minute...10 times faster than ever before! Try it just once...you'll love it!

IMAGINE...now you can "char-coal" broil right in your kitchen range! All you do is brush steaks, chops or hamburger with KITCHEN BOUQUET...your broiler does the rest. And besides giving a crispy "char-coal" broiled taste, KITCHEN BOUQUET helps seal in all the savory meat juices...makes your favorite meats taste even more delicious! For proof "char-coal" broil with KITCHEN BOUQUET...see, smell, taste the delicious difference! And you get more meat for your money when you cook the low temperature KITCHEN BOUQUET way. Full information plus exciting recipes in each package.

LIKE COFFEE? Well, I think you'll like it better if you "cream" it with PREAM...in fact, I believe you'll prefer PREAM to anything you've ever used in coffee! It's really the newest, most convenient way to "cream" coffee...for PREAM is a delicious, 100% dairy product in powdered form. You see, it's made of fresh, sweet cream and other milk products...nothing is added! And it's so nice to use...you just add a spoonful to your coffee and stir...it dissolves instantly. What's more, PREAM never sours or "turns"...actually stays fresh without refrigeration! It makes coffee taste oh-so good, too...and can save you money as well as time and trouble!

YOU MAY BE SURPRISED...but the way to tell a really good grapefruit is by the feel. Why, even with my eyes shut, I know the heavy, thin skinned ones are FLORIDAS...loaded with extra juice and resistance-building Vitamin C! So naturally they're the ones I always pick for the fruit cups, salads and the juicy halves we have so often at our house, instead of heavy, fattening desserts. That's a wonderful way to lose weight and like it, too...for FLORIDA Grapefruit are low in calories but so-o-o delicious and naturally satisfying! And they're sweeter than ever this year...a real vintage crop. Serve them often...morning, noon and night!

Everybody Loves Babies At Benning

FORT BENNING, JAN. 21—A bumper crop of babies, 2,199 of them, was born at Ft. Benning's U.S. Army Hospital during 1953, according to Lt. Col. John S. Zelenik of (1133 McAllister) N. Chicago, Ill., chief of the obstetrical and gynecological ward.

Boys outnumbered girls, 1,112, to 1,087, which kept Col. Zelenik's staff of four doctors busy administering the first whack to more than 500 infants each.

The obstetrical staff includes Maj. Francis A. Forde of New York City, assistant chief, Maj. George A. McCormack, Medford, Mass., Capt. Daniel G. Cook, Lakewood, Ohio, and Lt. Hugh H. Cook, Wilmington, N.C. The quartet delivered 19 sets of twins and one set of triplets. The biggest baby tipped the scales at 11 pounds, 2 ounces. Smallest weight in at 2 pounds, 10 1/2 ounces. The New Year brought no rest for the weary physicians. Instead it brought a set of triplets, the first week of January. But Col. Zelenik declares that deliveries are up to schedule, and no one really minds the rush.

At Ft. Benning every body loves a baby—even the obstetrician.

Miss McLemore Is Bride of Gene Hawkins

Miss Mary McLemore became the bride of Gene Hawkins at a ceremony solemnized at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McLemore of Marietta. Dr. Griffin Henderson officiated. James Caines was best man for Mr. Hawkins, and Miss Martha McLemore was maid of honor. Mr. McLemore gave his daughter in marriage. A reception followed the ceremony.

CONSTIPATED?

Read this message from Mrs. G. F. Hunter of Winston-Salem, N.C.

"My trouble with constipation dates quite a while back. And most of the laxatives I used in the past were either too harsh or too slow.

"Then, I heard about Sal Hepatica from a friend—and now I'm a friend for life of Sal Hepatica. It really does the trick. Now when I have that loggy, constipated feeling in the evening, I take Sal Hepatica a half hour before dinner and I'm fit as a fiddle by bedtime."

Yes, take sparkling Sal Hepatica before breakfast and feel fine again...usually within an hour. Or, take it in the evening one-half hour before supper and feel fine again by bedtime! Sweetens sour stomach, too! So keep Sal Hepatica handy in your medicine chest.

Can't Tax Isolated Sales, Appeals Court Tells State

A casual and isolated sale of tangible personal property is not subject to Georgia's 3 per cent sales and use tax, the State Court of Appeals ruled yesterday.

Albert Dozier, director of the sales tax unit of the State Department of Revenue, said the ruling will cost the state $2,500,000 a year in sales tax collections. The appellate court reversed a DeKalb Superior Court decision in a case involving Joe Novak, a onetime bakery operator. Novak did not think he should pay sales tax when he sold his equipment and store fixtures in 1952.

The decision is contrary to views hitherto stated by Dozier and State Revenue Commissioner Charles D. Redwine. The commissioner, for instance, said recently that any private sale of an automobile was subject to the tax even though the seller was not a car dealer.

Reception Set Today For Rev. Carpenter

The congregation of the Lutheran Church of the Messiah in Decatur will have a reception for the new pastor, the Rev. Cecil W. Carpenter, at 8 p.m. today at the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church in Decatur. All Lutheran ministers in the Atlanta area and Decatur ministers of all denominations have been invited.

TB Conference Slates Annual Meet Here

The Southern Tuberculosis Conference has scheduled its annual meeting Sept. 9-11 at the Biltmore Hotel. The convention will mark the 40th anniversary of the conference and the 50th anniversary of the National Tuberculosis Association. Dr. C. M. Sharp of Jacksonville, Fla., is president.

Rev. Thompson Of Emory Plans Cuban Mission

The Rev. Frank B. Thompson of Emory University is one of 97 Methodist ministers and laymen from 22 states who have been chosen to conduct an evangelistic mission throughout Cuba, Jan. 27 through Feb. 4.

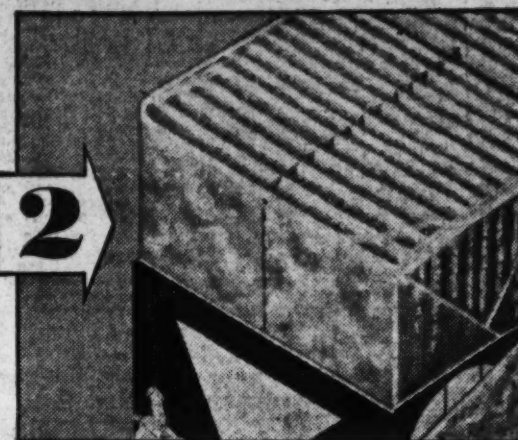

His selection was announced by the Methodist Church's General Board of Evangelism, Nashville, Tennessee.

The evangelists will meet Tuesday in Miami, Fla., for instruction, and will go to Cuba Wednesday. The Cuban crusade is the first in the Methodist Church's 1954 program of special evangelistic missions.

TAKE IT TO YOUR GROCER

TO THE DEALER: Durkee Famous Foods will redeem this coupon for 12¢ provided (a) dealer has accepted it in exchange for Durkee's Margarine; (b) Dealer presents coupon to Durkee Famous Foods, either by (1) mailing it to Durkee Famous Foods himself, or (2) by handing it to a Durkee salesman (coupon will not be redeemed if presented through agencies, brokers, etc.); and (c) it is presented for redemption before Mar. 1, 1954. Customers must pay sales tax. Invoices showing dealer has purchased sufficient stock to cover coupons presented for payment must be shown upon request. The redeemable value of this coupon is 1/20 of 1 cent each. This coupon is void if issued, prohibited or restricted by law.

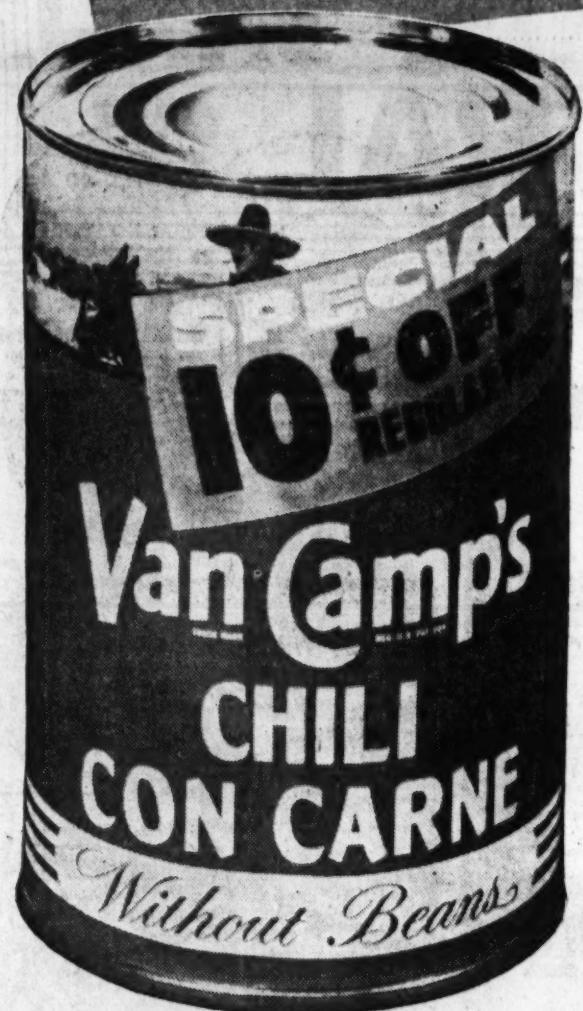

In your lifetime, you've seen margarine come a long, long way. Today, you know margarine is at least equal in health, nutrition and purity to any spread at any price.

But you may still have a question mark about flavor.

Now at last, this question mark can be erased. Now there is a margarine that is equal in flavor to any spread at any price. The secret is a new discovery made by Durkee scientists.

They found the reason why ordinary margarine does not have the flavor you want. It is because ordinary margarine separates inside the mouth into two separate flavors. The solution was found in a new process that marries the two flavors so they melt in your mouth together.

Next time you shop, reach for new Durkee's in the gold and blue package. Once you taste it, you'll never go back to the spread you're using now!

Since grandmother used to run next door, a distance of half a mile or more, to borrow a "starter" (home-made yeast cake) for her yeast bread, these rolls and loaves have lost none of their taste or aromatic appeal.

From breakfast to dinner, parties inclusive, yeast rolls inject a note of flair that practically sings out "sit up and take notice," especially when shaped into fan tans and rosettes or filled with blended spice and fruit.

The yeast dough for filled butter rolls is not tricky to make. In fact, it is hard to have a failure. While the dough is rising for the second time, whip up the spicy apricot filling.

They will come in handy for piping hot breakfast rolls some morning. Freeze in each package the number of rolls that will be used at one time.

Be sure to take advantage of the mixes available, too. They make it possible to bake old-fashioned treats with a tremendous saving in time.

FILLED BUTTER ROLLS

1½ cups milk
1 cup butter or margarine
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cake or package yeast
¼ cup warm water
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
6 cups sifted all-purpose flour

1. Heat milk just to boiling point. Stir in butter, sugar and salt. Cool until lukewarm. 2. Sprinkle crumbled compressed yeast or packaged yeast on water. Stir until dissolved. 3. Add yeast, eggs, lemon rind and flour to milk mixture. Beat well until smooth. 4. Place in greased bowl, cover with a towel and let rise in warm place until double in bulk. 5. Punch down and let rise again. 6. When doubled again, turn dough onto floured board and knead lightly for about one minute. 7. Roll out portions of dough ½ inch thick.

ROUND BUNS: Cut dough into two and ½ inch rounds, place on greased cookie sheet and with thumb make indentation in center of each. Fill with teaspoon of prune or apricot filling.

BUN SQUARES: Cut dough into four-inch squares, place a teaspoon of filling in center of each, moisten corners with water and bring opposite corners to center. Press gently together.

TWISTS: Form strips of dough into ropes and shape into a circle. Place teaspoon of filling in center. 8. Place rolls on greased cookie sheet, cover, and let rise until double in bulk. 9. Brush lightly with cream. 10. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 15-20 minutes or until golden brown. Make about 48 rolls. 11. If desired brush with a mixture of one cup powdered sugar and two tablespoons hot milk while rolls are still warm.

APRICOT FILLING

1 pound dried apricots, cut in pieces
1 cup water
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ginger
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

1. Cut apricots into pieces and combine with other ingredients in a saucepan. 2. Simmer until apricots have softened, stirring occasionally to prevent sticking. 3. Remove from heat and beat well. This may be put through a sieve or used as is.

STREUSEL TOPPING

¼ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped nuts, if desired

1. Combine all ingredients. 2. Sprinkle on batter and bake.

YEAST ROLLS

Although the shapes of rolls may change, plain yeast pan rolls stay the same and are always good. But watch interest arouse in these fan tans and rosettes. Bake this bread in a loaf or in any type roll.

2 cakes or packages yeast
¼ cup warm water
1 cup milk
¼ cup sugar
2 teaspoons salt
¼ cup shortening
5 cups sifted enriched flour (about)
2 eggs
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind (if desired)

1. Soften yeast in water. 2. Scald milk. Add sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. 3. Add flour to make thick batter. Mix well. 4. Add enough more flour to make soft dough. 5. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead until smooth and satiny. 6. Place in greased bowl. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled (about 1½ hours). 7. When light, punch down. Let rest 10 minutes. Shape into rolls. 8. Place on greased baking sheets and let rise until doubled (about 45 minutes).

Winter Season Favors Gay Congealed Salad

Wintertime favors bright congealed salads, whether fruit or vegetable, and here are two of the gayest possible ideas—a star souffle salad and refreshing tomato aspic. To add to their colorful beauty, fancy molds contribute a special party-like appearance that appeals to the family.

STAR SOUFFLE SALAD

1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
¼ cup cold water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup mayonnaise
1 cup finely chopped celery
¼ cup maraschino cherries
¼ cup chopped nuts
1½ cups canned cling peach slices

1. Dissolve gelatin in hot water. 2. Blend in cold water, lemon juice and salt. 3. Add mayonnaise, and beat with rotary beater until smooth. 4. Turn into refrigerator tray and place in freezing compartment for 15 minutes (without changing freezing control). 5. When mixture is set about one inch from edge of pan but soft in center, turn into bowl and beat with rotary beater until fluffy.

6. Fold in other ingredients and well-drained peach slices. 7. Turn into 1½-quart mold or eight individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens to serve. Serves eight.

TOMATO ASPIC SALAD

1 tablespoons (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin
¼ cup water
1 cup tomato juice
18-oz. can tomato sauce
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 teaspoon sugar

1. Soften gelatin in water for five minutes. 2. Dissolve over boiling water. 3. Add tomato juice and sauce. Mix well. 4. Add onion and sugar. 5. Pour into square shallow pan, individual ring molds, or 6 individual custard cups. 6. Chill until firm. Serves six.

2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt

Cut peaches in half. Cover with cold water. Cover saucepan. Cook until tender, about 20 minutes. Bring peaches, sugar, lemon juice and nutmeg to a boil. Pour into 1 1/2 quart casserole or baking dish. Mix shortening, egg, milk and flavoring. Add dry ingredients sifted together and beat thoroughly. Pour over hot peaches. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees, 45 minutes. Serve warm with cream or top milk. Makes 8 servings.

Mrs. Hanson, Smyrna PTA Leader, Dies

Mrs. Wesley Turnell Hanson, 69, of Smyrna, first president of the Smyrna PTA organization and the wife of W. T. Hanson, who was assistant principal of Teah High School prior to his retirement in 1944, died yesterday afternoon in a private hospital following a long illness.

Funeral services will be held at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow at Spring Hill. The Rev. J. H. Allison and the Rev. Vivian L. Bray will officiate. Burial will be in New Smyrna Cemetery.

Palbearers will be George L. Bell, Arthur L. Cole Jr., Fielding L. Dillard, Joel Hurt, Joe E. Brown and Tom G. Perkins.

Mrs. Hanson was the former Ruth Gardner, a native of Cumming and the daughter of the Rev. George E. Gardner, Methodist minister at Newnan and Washington for many years, and Mary Bell Gardner, granddaughter of U.S. Rep. Hiram P. Bell. She came to Atlanta in 1899 to live with an uncle, Judge George L. Bell of the Fulton Superior Court for eight years prior to her marriage in 1908 she taught school at Smyrna.

Mrs. Woodall Dies at 92; Rites Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Amelia Reeder Woodall, 92, of 512 Clairmont Ave., Decatur, Ga., will be held today at 11:30 a.m. in the famous march of 10,000 suffragettes.

She had served as treasurer of the Georgia WTCU, and had appeared before the state Legislature on behalf of the child labor amendment, temperance issues and bills concerning the welfare of women and children.

A native of Gwinnett County, she was the former Amelia Reeder, daughter of Dr. Nathaniel Burial will be in Rock Springs Presbyterian churchyard.

Mrs. Woodall was an organizer and a president of the first Georgia women's suffrage association, organized in Atlanta about 1909.

With nine other Georgia women she represented the Georgia Suffrage Assn. at the Washington,

Cap. and Isabel Liddell Reeder, she was the widow of Robert D. Woodall, Atlanta real estate broker who died in 1911.

Surviving are nine nieces.

New lotion —
Scientifically years ahead!

Actually heals chapped skin!

Roughness clears
Redness fades away
Ragged cuticle smooths
Coarsened elbows soften

Not just a "cosmetic" lotion
Unlike other lotions, new Angel Skin does not just superficially smooth chapped, red skin. It goes deep—heals chapping!

No sticky "coating"
New Angel Skin can't leave your hands sticky, because—unlike old-style lotions—it contains no gummy "filler." All of its deep-softening richness penetrates at once.

Neutralizes drying detergent
Angel Skin is a new lotion, created to meet the drying effect of today's powerful new washing products. Angel Skin is designed to counteract detergent chemicals.

Amazing effects on chapped skin!
Dry, roughness smooths. Redness fades! Coarsened, discolored skin of elbows and heels regains normal texture and color. Flaky, winter-roughened skin on face and arms becomes smoother, softer.

MAGNIFIED SKIN DIAGRAM SHOWS
ANGEL SKIN'S DEEP-SOFTENING ACTION

OTHER LOTIONS stop at the skin surface—They give skin only superficial smoothing

ANGEL SKIN penetrates this outer skin surface—Gives immediate help to living skin tissue where chapped redness and roughness begin

Women in Alaska say "It works wonders—even at 40° below." After hundreds of phenomenally successful tests among women in this country, Angel Skin was sent to Alaska. There, it proved its amazing, deep-softening action. See for yourself—get fragrant, creamy-pink Angel Skin today.

You'll see amazing effects—right away!

Dry "cracked" heels and elbows—Angel Skin's penetrating formula dissolves off roughnesses that "snag" nylons. Restores normal texture and color to coarsened, discolored elbows

Chapped, red hands—See how Angel Skin's deep-softening action smooths dry, rough skin right away. Redness fades out. Chapping heals

Dried-out "detergent hands"—Unlike other hand lotions, new Angel Skin by Pond's is formulated to counteract irritating detergent alkalies

Put on gloves right after Angel Skin! This new deep-softening lotion leaves no sticky "coating." Your skin takes up all Angel Skin's richness at once

SPICY AND CANDIED SWEET POTATOES
Excellent Supper Dish As Well As Sunday Dinner

Penny-Wise Casserole
Your solution for economical meals the week before payday is this flavorful pantry-shelf dinner. Cook a chopped onion in a little fat and combine with a can of tomato soup, a can of mackerel, drained, and cooked egg noodles. Season with sage, put in a casserole, and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Just before serving sprinkle coarsely crushed corn curls on top.

namon sticks, nutmeg and lemon slices. Their flavor blends well with all meats. They are an excellent supper dish as well as Sunday dinner.

SPICY CANDIED YAMS
6 medium-sized yams
2 cups sugar
1½ cups water
3 sticks cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon allspice
1 lemon, thinly sliced

1. Cook yams, covered, in slightly salted boiling water for 45 minutes, or until tender; peel.
2. Combine sugar and water and bring to boil over medium heat; add spices.
3. Reduce heat and simmer 5 minutes.
4. Turn yams into greased quart casserole and pour syrup over yams; add lemon slices.
5. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes, basting occasionally with syrup.

"Monthly Pains" stopped or amazingly relieved
In 3 out of 4 cases in doctors' tests

Are you putting up—unnecessarily—with the functionally-caused cramps, pains and weak "no good" feelings of menstruation? In doctors' tests, Lydia Pinkham's Compound and Tablets brought complete or striking relief from such distress... in 3 out of 4 cases!

Try modern-acting Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound or new, improved Tablets with added iron. See if it doesn't relieve those pains and jitters... help you feel better both before and during your period!

New... try popular new Tablets!

Women by the thousands are changing to new Pinkham's Tablets. Give glorious relief—easier to carry and take, too! (Also wonderful for functional distress of hot flashes of "change of life.") Get a bottle today.

Pinkham's helps to "quiet" uterine contractions that often cause menstrual pain!

Cheese Is Garnish On Peaches

There's no better time to serve an attractive peach and cottage cheese salad than right now during the winter months. To give a dash of glamor to "Peach Bowls," add crisp shredded carrot and salt to cottage cheese.

PEACH BOWLS
8 canned cling peach halves
Salad greens for garnish
½ pound cream-style cottage cheese
½ cup shredded carrot
Chopped parsley
Mayonnaise or French dressing

1. Drain peaches and arrange 2 in each of 3 garnished salad bowls. 2. Blend cheese with carrot and salt. 3. Shape into 9 balls and roll in parsley. 4. Arrange 3 cheese balls in each salad bowl with peaches. 5. Serve with mayonnaise or French dressing. Serves three.

Celebrate Chip Week With Dips

"Seasoned potato chips (dust them with your favorite herb or spice) are the newest taste sensation just in time for National Potato Chip Week beginning Monday.

Curry powder, chili powder and garlic powder are good choices for seasoning potato chips.

Potato chips served with a dip are perfect for parties and snacks.

CLAM DIP

1 clove garlic
2 three-ounce packages cream cheese
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup clams, minced
1 tablespoon clam broth
1. Rub inside of small bowl with cut clove of garlic. 2. Blend cream cheese with seasonings. 3. Add clams which have been drained and chopped. 4. Add clam juice. Place in bowl and chill.

Pears, Potatoes Share Spotlight

Winter pears share the spotlight with Irish potatoes and broilers and fryers on the U.S. Department of Agriculture's list of foods expected to be in plentiful supply this month and next.

Other foods on USDA's list of plentiful include beef, eggs, both fresh and processed oranges and grapefruit, cabbage, lettuce, onions, celery, dairy products, peanuts and peanut butter, raisins and fats and oils.

Top Beef Stew With a Crust

A beef stew becomes a beef pie merely with the addition of a topping. This may be a flaky pastry crust, tender biscuits, mashed potatoes, or fluffy rice. Individual meat pies are popular for buffet serving and are easily prepared by braising one to two-inch beef cubes in a small amount of liquid and seasoning well with salt, pepper, herbs or spices. When the cubes are tender, arrange in individual casseroles and cover with your favorite topping. Place in a hot oven long enough for the meat pies to be heated through and the topping browned.

Blonde Brownies Welcome Treat to Hungry Scholars

Bake a batch of blonde brownies to send to that girl or boy away at school. Send enough so there will be plenty to pass around to dorm-mates. Sift together 1 cup sifted enriched flour, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, and ½ teaspoon salt. Melt ¾ cup shortening. Cool and add 1½ cups brown sugar and 2 eggs, beaten. Mix well. Add flour mixture gradually, mixing until smooth. Add ½ teaspoon vanilla extract, 1 cup chopped nuts and ½ cup chocolate bits (3 ounces). Spread in greased pan, 7x11 inches. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes. Cut into bars. Makes 21 bars, about 1½x2 inches. When bars have cooled, wrap them individually in waxed paper or aluminum foil to keep them fresh while traveling.

Everybody's favorite—hamburgers blessed with Stokely's Finest Catsup and served with Stokely's Finest whole kernel, Golden Corn

Stokely-Van Camp

Companions in good eating—sausage and fried apple slices with Stokely's Finest Golden Corn—so sweet and tender.

OTHER BEST COOKS FAVORITES THAT YOU WILL ENJOY

CUT GREEN BEANS • young, tender beans with "just-picked" freshness.
TOMATO JUICE • the sunny flavor of vine-ripened tomatoes . . . rich in vitamins.
SUGAR PEAS • right from the pod . . . sweet as sugar.
PEACHES • luscious, golden peaches in heavy syrup.
TOMATO CATSUP • delicately seasoned and "kettle-simmered" for full-bodied flavor.

License Revocations Listed by Patrol

The following is a list of persons whose driver's licenses were placed in revocation last week as announced by the State Patrol, together with the dates on which the licenses are eligible for reinstatement.

Revocation orders are issued by the patrol upon receipt of conviction records from the courts. In numerous instances, patrol officials point out, there are long and unexplained delays on the parts of some courts in forwarding the conviction records; hence some of the eligibility dates have already expired when revocation orders are issued.

Unless otherwise specified, the cause for revocation was drunk driving.

Statue of Mayson Examined for Cleanup

A bust of the late James L. Mayson, who served for more than 30 years as Atlanta's city attorney, may receive a "face-lifting" and an identifying marker at its City Hall lawn location.

Mayson's widow has appealed to the Atlanta Club, organization of women city employees, to "clean up" the time-blackened memorial. She reminded the group that Mayson named the Atlanta Club and "always was keenly interested in your club."

Mrs. Helen Thompson, Atlanta Club president, named a committee of three charter members, Mrs. Louise Cox, Miss Lula Boy and Miss Sara Cleveland, to investigate. The memorial was erected by action of City Council in 1936.

Cobb, Houston Schools To Get $464,083 in Aid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—Two Georgia school systems—Cobb County and Houston County—will get a total of $464,083 from the Federal Government for school construction.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare announced the allocations, granted because federal activities in the two counties have boosted school enrollments.

The Cobb system, centering in Marietta, will receive $251,300. The Houston system at Perry will get $212,883.

Across the nation a total of $7,800,389 will be distributed for school construction under the order.

Augusta Hospital Probe Is Planned

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Veterans' Administration's Leno Wood Mental Hospital at Augusta apparently will be investigated as a result of a controversial new book.

Rep. W. M. (Don) Wheeler of Georgia has disclosed that Chairman Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass.) of the House Veterans' Affairs Committee promised that she will name a subcommittee to look into charges against the hospital.

Wheeler called for the investigation after reading "Hell's Cauldron" by Thomas G. E. Wilkes, one of his constituents.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, Friday, Jan. 22, 1954 • 47

The rank of captain is one of the oldest of military titles and before the 18th Century was of far greater importance than it is today.

If your child suddenly becomes ill
Do you know how to take over until the doctor comes... what you can do that may be an important help to your child? Can you give your doctor a good description of the symptoms by phone? FREE POPCORN!

This package of JOLLY TIME POP CORN is free when you buy
Kraft Oil at your grocer's!

Makes up to 3 heaping quarts! It's America's favorite popcorn... and this special package is yours as a gift when you buy either a pint or a quart of Kraft Oil. Jolly Time Pop Corn is processed in a patented way... every kernel is guaranteed to pop. No hulls. No hard centers. Your 2-ounce gift package will make three heaping quarts of tender, fluffy popcorn... the most delicious popcorn you've ever served!

Easy way to pop corn with Kraft Oil

1. Heat 2 tablespoons Kraft Oil in popper until a kernel of corn starts to spin when dropped in. (About 3 min.)
2. Put 3 ounces (1/2 cup) of corn into popper. Cover and cook until only an occasional popping is heard. (If using heavy skillet, shake gently several times during cooking.)
3. Pour corn into serving bowl. Salt to taste.

How to save $3.00 on a WHIRLWIND
ELECTRIC CORN POPPER

At your grocer's, where Kraft Oil is sold, you can get a free gift certificate worth $3.00 toward the purchase of a Whirlwind Electric Corn Popper. Certificate gives full instructions for ordering this $7.95 retail value for only $4.95!

- Pops corn fast and easy—no stirring or shaking
- 3-quart kettle is made of heavy-gauge aluminum
- Heat-resistant glass cover
- Kettle and hot plate may be used together or separately for other light cooking
- Fully guaranteed against defective materials and workmanship
- Electric cord included
- Approved by National Underwriters' Laboratory

Kraft Oil

the most wonderful oil for homemade salad dressings, fine baking and frying—and popping corn, too!

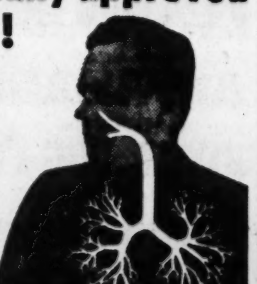

COUGHING?...now NO PRESCRIPTION NEEDED for newest medically approved cough treatment!

New super 666 Cough Syrup gives you ingredients previously available only on a doctor's prescription contains no narcotics or harmful drugs

At last, without a prescription, you can now get a modern cough syrup containing ingredients prescribed by doctors and throat specialists... just ask for new 666 Double-Action Cough Syrup for coughs due to colds and allergies. Only 666 Cough Syrup contains Throcomine, for a new principle of treatment that gives extra relief... that makes 666 Cough Syrup the truly "super" cough syrup.

It's different from all the "old-fashioned" cough syrups because this new special formula brings a double action relief... acting locally to soothe the irritated tissues and internally to loosen phlegm and clear throat congestion.

No other nationally advertised cough syrup has this new exclusive ingredient—Throcomine... that's why you need 666 Cough Syrup for that "extra" medically approved, and proven cough relief.

Remember, 666 Cough Syrup is guaranteed!... it's pleasant-tasting... children love it. If you don't think that it is better, more effective, than any cough syrup you have ever used, your money will be refunded. Return bottle.

IT'S NEW! IT TASTES GOOD! CHILDREN LOVE IT!
